DETROIT JUNCTION.

Monroe county. (See Alexis.)

DETROIT JUNCTION.

Locally known as Grand Trunk Junction, a suburb of Detroit, at a point just west of the city, whence 7 different railroad lines radiate, 6 of the 7 running into Detroit from thence over the M. C. R. R. track. The various roads are the Canada Southern Ry, the L. S. & M. S. Ry, the M. C. R. R., the D., L. & N. R. R., D. & B. C. R. R., D., B. & St. L. R. R., and the Grand Trunk Ry of Canada. The names of all parties, business and professional, are incorporated in the list for Detroit, of which the Junction is virtually a part.

DEVEREAUX.

A village of 200 inhabitants, on the Lansing Div. L. S. & M. S. Ry, in a thickly settled portion of Jackson county. It is 20 miles west of Jackson, 31 south of Lansing, and 102 due west of Detroit. Grain, live stock, fruit and pork to the amount of 3,156,656 lbs. were shipped in 1879. Banking business transacted at Albion, 6 miles south. The nearest express and telegraph offices are at Springport, the next station north. Mail, daily. George P. Godfrey, postmaster.

DE WITT.

A settlement formed in 1833 on Looking glass river, in the township of DeWitt, Clinton county, 9 miles due north of Lansing, and 14 south of St. Johns, the county seat. It has a population of about 400, and is the location of 2 churches, Baptist and Methodist, a public and a select school, 2 steam saw-mills, a flouring mill, an iron foundry and some other interests. Farm products and lumber are the chief exports. Stage with mail to Lansing, daily. Jonathan A. Sweet, postmaster.

DEXTER.

An enterprising village of 1300 inhabitants named in honor of S. C. W. Dexter, of Boston, Mass., who located a settlement here about 1823. It is situated on the Huron river at the mouth of Mill creek, in Scio township, northern central part of Washtenaw county, and is a station on the M. C. R. R., 9 miles west of Ann Arbor, the county seat, and 48 west of Detroit. It is in the midst of one of the best farming sections in the State, is well laid out and presents a neat, attractive appearance. Among its prominent features are its churches, of which there are 4, Baptist, Methodist, Episcopal and Roman Catholic, the latter being a handsome stone structure built at a cost of about $40,000. Excellent educational facilities are afforded by a large graded public school, and the place has a public hall with a seating capacity of 500. The Dexter Leader, an independent weekly newspaper, is published. The village is free from debt and has an assessed valuation, real and personal, of $398,444. Farms in the vicinity command from $50 to $75 per acre and farm products form a large portion of the shipments. Stage to Howell via Pinckney, daily, fare $1 and $2 respectively. Express, American. Telegraph, Western Union. Mail, daily, James T. Honey, postmaster.

DOWAGIAC.

The city of Dowagiac began its existence on the completion of the M. C. R. R. in 1848, and was made an incorporated village ten years later, at which time it contained a population of 800. In 1877, when the population had reached 2,000, a city charter was secured. The residents at this time number a trifle over 2,200. The city is located upon a branch of the river from which it takes its name, at the junction of the four townships of Wayne, Silver Creek, Pokagon and Lagrange, in Cass county, 10 miles northwest of Cassopolis, the county seat. Via the M. C. R. R. it is 12 miles northeast of Niles, 35 southwest of Kalamazoo, 39 northeast of New Buffalo and 179 west of Detroit. The surrounding agricultural region, which consists of prairie and oak openings, is unsurpassed for the growth of wheat, corn, potatoes, fruit and vegetables. Good facilities for manufacturing are afforded by an abundant water power supply, which is used by 2 flouring mills, a planing mill and a stove foundry within the city limits, besides which there is a steam saw mill, planing mill, brewery and 2 manufactories of grain drills, etc. The place contains a national and a private bank, 3 hotels, Baptist, Catholic, Congregational, Disciples, Methodist and Universalist churches, 2 graded ward schools, a public library of 300 and a ladies library of 700 volumes, and various other society organizations. Two newspapers, the Cass County Republican and the Dowagiac Times, are published. The leading exports are grain, wool, live stock, potatoes, fruit, flour, stoves, lumber and grain drills. Aggregate shipments in 1879, 5,500 tons. The town is free from debt and has an assessed valuation of $832,640, a sum much below its actual worth. Telegraph, Western Union. Express, American. C. L. Sherwood, postmaster.

EAST SAGINAW.

The chief commercial city of northern Michigan, and the center of the lumber and salt industries that have made the Saginaw valley famous, is pleasantly located on the east bank of Saginaw river, 16 miles from Saginaw bay. The stream is navigable for the largest lake vessels, and the large export business in salt, agricultural and forest products combine to make it one of the most important commercial and manufacturing cities in the west. The corporate limits of the city include about 3,750 acres, divided into 8 wards, and the consolidation with Saginaw City, only a question of time, and measures toward which are in progress, will give a new impetus to trade, population and industry. The business portion of the city is compactly and substantially built of brick and stone, while in private residences few cities of its size can boast of a greater number of exceptionally elegant ones. The public streets are wide and well paved and planked, and the city has an excellent system of sewerage, which is being extended constantly. It is supplied with gas, the Holly system of water works, metropolitan police system and fire department. Two lines of street railways furnish cheap transit. A line of commodious river steamers connect the city with Bay City by water, and regular lines of steamers run daily and weekly between lake Huron shore points to Alpena and Mackinaw on the north, and to Goderich, Port Huron, Detroit and Cleveland south and east. Three toll, 1 free and 2 railroad bridges span the river, affording ample facilities in this respect. The city is the center of a rich agricultural region, which is rapidly developing and will, within the next decade, prove to be the garden of the State. Half a million bushels of wheat, besides other grains raised in this vicinity, are marketed here during the year. The city enjoys facilities afforded by 5 lines of railroad, viz: Flint & Pere Marquette, Detroit, Saginaw & Bay City, Saginaw Valley & St. Louis, Chicago, Saginaw & Canada, and Jackson & Saginaw Div. Michigan Central. The Port Huron & Northwestern Narrow Gauge road, now terminating at Marlette, is also projected to this point, and is one of the consummations for 1881. A shore line is also projected to Alpena, and the Saginaw and Mt. Pleasant Narrow Gauge, now in operation, places the principal points in Isabella county in rapid and easy communication with the city.

The assessed valuation in 1880 was $7,526,610, and the tax levy $154,989.21, exclusive of State and county tax.

The manufacture of dairy salt, as well as the ordinary grades of salt, is carried on extensively. The city is the headquarters of the salt producing territory of the State, the product of which has increased from 4,000 barrels in 1860 to 2,676,588 barrels in 1880. It is also the headquarters and base of supplies of the lumbering regions, which produced in 1880 1,090,452,928 feet of pine saw logs, 863,356,009 feet of lumber, and 241,075,100 shingles, besides lath, staves, oars, oak and pine square timber in large quantities.

The city also possesses two large flouring mills, half a dozen machine shops and foundries, 6 planing, sash and door factories, 3 national, 1 savings and 1 private banking institutions, and numerous small industries.

The last census, loosely taken, shows a population of a little over 19,000, but the school census and vote cast at the last election, as compared with other cities, shows an actual population of 22,000.

The educational facilities of the city are nowhere surpassed. It has 12 large public school buildings, and a number of private schools.

In benevolent institutions it is represented by a fine large hospital, under the auspices of the Sisters of Charity, an Orphan Asylum and Home for the Friendless.

The religious interests are represented by 18 church societies, nearly all having elegant and commodious places of worship.

In hotel facilities the city is surpassed by no city in the west, save Chicago, and hence it is a point sought to be reached by business men traveling through the State, as well as by tourists. The bulletin issued by the National Board of Health, January, 1881, shows the death rate per 1,000 people to be less than any other city in the United States, save Cambridge, Mass.

A city is judged largely by its press, and in this respect East Saginaw is excelled by no city of its population in the west, and equaled by few. The Daily Courier is owned by a stock company, is independent in politics and the largest and most widely circulated journal in the State (excepting only the Detroit press). The daily morning Herald is controlled by a stock company, is Republican in politics, is ably conducted, and an enterprising and useful representative of the city's interests.

A flourishing village situated on the north shore of Tawas bay, 1¼ miles above Tawas City. It is in Baldwin township, Iosco county, and has one of the best harbors to be found along the shore of lake Huron, being capable of floating the largest vessels. A settlement was formed here in 1864, and the village, which now has a population of 1,200, is the seat of extensive manufacturing interests in salt and lumber. The two leading firms, Emery Bros. and G. P. & H. B. Smith, in 1879, manufactured and shipped, the former 35,000 barrels of salt and 10,000,000 feet of lumber, and the latter 30,000 barrels of salt and about 10,000,000 feet of lumber. The works of the American Pipe Co. of Bay City are located here, and there are 2 planning mills, a flour mill, shingle mill, and sash and blind factory. The churches are Baptist, Catholic, Congregational, Episcopal and Methodist Episcopal. The public school is graded with 4 teachers and 225 pupils. Assessed valuation of real estate and personal property, $125,000. The surrounding country consists of good farming land, interspersed with sandy plains. Salt, lumber, shingles, cedar posts, wooden pipe, small fruits, venison, etc., are

EATON MILLS.

A discontinued postoffice in Augusta township, Washtenaw county, 8 miles south of Ypsilanti.

EATON RAPIDS.

Lies at the intersection of the Grand Rapids Div M. C. R. R. and the Lansing Div. L. S. & M. S. Ry, in the township of Eaton Rapids, southeastern part of Eaton county. Via the first of the above named roads it is 24 miles northwest of Jackson, 100 west of Detroit, and 11 southeast of Charlotte, the county seat. The settlement, which dates its existence from 1837, became an incorporated village in 1859, was reincorporated in 1871, and is now arranging for a city charter. Grand river, which flows through the town, furnishes power for a flour mill, woolen factory and iron foundry, besides which there are manufactories of lumber, staves and barrels, doors, sash and blinds, handles, butter tubs, brick, etc. But the place is chiefly famous for its mineral waters, it claiming the appellation of the Saratoga of Michigan. Artesian wells are sunk a few hundred feet, when the waters, possessing strong magnetic properties, flow to the surface in copious streams. They are slightly cathartic in their effects, and are highly extolled for their cures in cases of dyspepsia and also rheumatic affections. The Anderson and Frost Houses have each mineral springs in connection. Mr. Hale, proprietor of the latter house, came to the village in 1875, and after running the Anderson House one year, took the Frost House, of which he is still the proprietor.

He has established a water-cure, the first in the place, and won such a reputation for his treatment that his patients now number about 300 annually, coming from all parts of the country. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan (1864), also of Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia (1870), and was assistant surgeon during the war.

The village is improving rapidly, has Methodist, Congregational, Baptist and Episcopal churches, good schools, township and other libraries, a bank and other features, making it a desirable place of residence. It is reached by both the American and U. S. Express Co.'s. Bonded indebtedness of the village, $23,000, in school bonds, payable annually within nine years. Telegraph, Western Union. Population, 2,000. Horace M. Hamilton, postmaster.

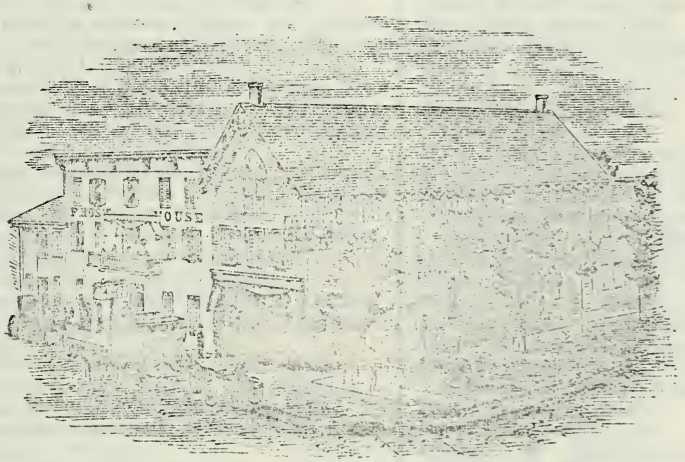
MEDICAL SANITARIUM

Halls, Bath and Exercising Rooms Heated by Steam,



At the FROST HOUSE, Eaton Rapids, Mich.

This Health Resort is open WINTER and SUMMER, and PATIENTS LIVE and are TREATED IN THE SAME BUILDING. Our House is commodious and appropriately furnished and fitted with all the BATHING and MECHANICAL APPLIANCES used in the Healing Art. Besides the many MINERAL PROPERTIES which this water contains, there is that WONDERFUL MAGNETIC property attached to and flowing with it, which aids largely in the SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT of the herein stated CHRONIC DISEASES. The Analysis of Frost's Artesian Well is, to wit:

Sulphate of Lime	4.64
Carbonate of Iron	2.28
Chloride of Sodium	9.21
Carbonate of Magnesia	9.11
Carbonates of Lime,	46.24
Silica	15.74
Organic Matter	0.90
Total	88.22 grains per U. S. gallon.

Free Carbonic Acid Gas, 22.22 cubic inches per gallon.
And Sulphidric Acid Gas, 5 " " "

Its Medical properties are Laxative, Powerful Diuretic, Cholagogue, Stomachic, Digestant, Antacid, Alterative, Emmenagogue, Errhine, Blood and Nerve Tonic. Thousands now afflicted with Acute and Chronic Rheumatism, Sciatica, Catarrh, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Spleen, Liver and Kidney complaints; Diseases of Females, Spermatorrhœa and its evil results; also Nerve Exhaustion or Prostration from over brain work; Debility following Typhoid and other forms of Fever deemed hopeless, can have complete and perfect restoration to health, and often in an incredibly short time. Many diseases that have been endured for years, causing misery and despair, have been cured here, after all other remedies have failed. Besides, patients have the benefit of Electric, Electro Thermal, Hot Air, Vapor and Fume Baths, with Hale's Vibratory Movement Cure, Walking Machine, Cumulative Exercise, Pneumatic Treatment, etc. Also Passenger and Baggage Elevator with wheeled chairs to convey the needy to all parts of the house, with kind and efficient help to attend to their wants, in all departments. Eaton Rapids, healthfully and pleasantly located in the midst of a rich fruit and farming district free from epidemics, at the Junction of the Grand Rapids Division of the Michigan Central and the Lansing Division of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroads, enjoys good railroad facilities to all parts of the country. ESCANABA.

An incorporated village of 3,000 population, is the county seat of Delta county. It is beautifully situated on a point of land that divides the waters of Green bay from those of Little Bay de Noquet, the latter forming one of the best harbors on the whole chain of lakes. It is very easy of approach, having an entrance three miles in width, and a depth sufficient to float the largest vessels. It has communication with Milwaukee and Chicago via the C. & N. W. Ry, and with Marquette via the M., H. & O. R. R. Distance from Chicago 356 miles, Milwaukee 271 miles, and Marquette 76 miles. It is one of the three shipping points for the upper peninsula iron ore, and rivals Marquette in the extent of these shipments. It has two extensive iron docks, erected at a cost of $400,000, with facilities for receiving and shipping 700 loaded cars of ore per day. There are 1,950 of these cars employed between the iron mines and Escanaba, and each carries 7½ tons to a load. Twenty-five vessels can be loaded every 12 hours. An iron furnace that cost $250,000 to build, and the finest on the upper peninsula, is located here. Among the other interests are a flouring mill, planing mill, brewery and 3 hotels. The Tilden House, the best, is beautifully situated on the shore of Green bay, with extensive lawns, bathing houses, etc., and is the finest summer resort in the upper peninsula. There are 3 churches, 2 neat school buildings, a young men's reading room, a weekly newspaper, the Iron Port, a bank, etc. Good farming and hard wood timber land lies within a few miles of the village, and the Escanaba river, which rises in the iron region and here flows into the lake, furnishes water power. The village was first settled in 1863. Express, American. Telegraph, Northwestern. E. P. Royce, postmaster.

EVART.

Except Midland, is the most important station on the F. & P. M. Ry, between Saginaw and Ludington. It is 76 miles northwest of the former, 62 east of the latter, and 174 from Detroit. The village, which was settled in 1871, lies on the line between Osceola and Evart townships, in the southern part of Osceola county, 10 miles east of Hersey, the county seat. It received its present charter in 1875, and now has a population of 1,400. Lumbering is the chief interest, nearly everybody being engaged in, or to some extent dependent upon, this industry. The country surrounding is well adapted to agricultural purposes, and is being settled as rapidly as timber is cleared away. Evart has some fine hotels, the Evart being one of the best in northern Michigan. It has good school advantages, four religious organizations, Catholic, Methodist, Congregational and Episcopalian, a good weekly newspaper, the Review (Rep.), and, including the immediate vicinity, seven saw and shingle mills, two flour mills, a foundry and machine shop. Shipments are pine clapboards, lumber, shingles and grain. The Osceola County Agricultural Society, one of the prominent institutions of the county, has its grounds here. It is at Evart that the F. & P. M. Ry first strikes the Muskegon river. North and northeast of the village is a body of pine estimated to contain 500,000,000 feet, which is not reached by any of the logging streams, and during 1878 railroads for logging purposes were built from the river here, and will be extended until this timber is all put in the stream. Express, American. Mail, daily. Telegraph, Western Union. Ira R. Ennis, postmaster.

FLINT.

A beautifully located and attractive city, having, according to the census of 1880, 8,435 inhabitants, occupies an elevated site on both sides of Flint river, near the geographical center of Genesee county, of which it is the seat of justice. The site upon which the city stands was formerly known as the Grand Traverse of Flint river, and was a favorite camping and trading ground of the Chippewa Indians in their hunting and fishing expeditions. The locality, naturally one of much picturesque beauty, has been so improved by tasteful cultivation as to make Flint one of the most neat and handsome towns in the State. The streets are broad, well laid out and many of them paved and liberally supplied with shade and ornamental trees. The city is lighted with gas, has a fire department equipped with two steam fire engines and two hook and ladder trucks, and on the main streets are conveniently placed drinking fountains supplied by a flowing artesian well. The site was settled in 1820, became a village in 1831, and was incorporated a city in 1855, since which time the limits have been extended and the city divided into four wards. For years it has been an active, enterprising, commercial and manufacturing place. A number of mills are largely engaged in the manufacture of lumber, one having a capacity of 100,000 feet daily. A large business is also done by four mills in the line of sash, doors and blinds. There are 3 flouring mills, 3 foundries and machine shops, 2 grain elevators, a paper mill, 2 furniture factories, 2 stave mills, an extensive charcoal manufactory, 2 breweries, a tannery, several carriage manufactories, and other industries of less note. Prominent among the business enterprises are the large Genesee Iron Works and the Flint Woolen Mills, the latter having a daily capacity of 1,000 yards, and employing 100 hands.

The grounds of the Genesee County Agricultural Society are located here, and a stock and trotting association, both of which have developed considerable business in raising fine stock in and near the city.

The city has 7 commodious school buildings, one, the high school erected at a cost of $100,000, is the handsomest in the state. This institution is supplied with a good scientific cabinet, philosophical apparatus and choice library. There are 2,000 pupils in attendance, 35 teachers are employed, and the annual expenses are about $22,000. The Roman Catholics also have a good school with a large attendance. The State institution for the education of the deaf and dumb is pleasantly located in the southeastern part of the city, surrounded with grounds of 40 acre area, tastefully laid out and covered with groves of trees. The blind, also, were formerly educated here, but have recently been removed to an institution devoted exclusively to their training at Lansing. Among other public edifices are the court house and jail, and the city hall. These are large, well-arranged and costly buildings, the former surrounded by spacious grounds.

The religious interests of the city are amply represented by 10 well-sustained churches, three of which are Methodist Episcopal (one colored), one Free Methodist, and one each of Catholic, Congregational, Baptist, Episcopal, Presbyterian, and German Evangelical.

The Ladies' Library Association has a substantial and suitable building, well furnished with choice and select works.

Many of the older members of the Flint Bar have acquired an enviable reputation, and others now less prominent bid fair to become eminent in the profession.

Six weekly and monthly newspapers are published, viz.: The Wolverine Citizen (Republican), Flint Globe (Republican), Genesee Democrat and Journal (Democratic), Our Union, monthly, devoted to temperance, and Deaf Mute Mirror. The latter is published by the students at the asylum.

There are three banks, the First National and Citizens' National being banks of issue, and the third a savings institution.

Prominent among the hotels here, of which there are several, are the Bryant House and the Sherman, both of which are excellent, the former being one of the finest hotels in Michigan.

An armory has been provided by the State Legislature, and two companies of militia equipped.

The F. & P. M. Ry and the N. W. & G. T. Ry cross each other here, and it is the point of intersection of the Otter Lake branch of the F. & P. M. Ry with the main line. Distance to Detroit 64 miles, to Port Huron 66 miles, to Lansing 49

WARREN'S

Automatic Safety Stop Governor

WITH AUTOMATIC COUNTER-SHAFT (IF A COUNTER IS USED.)

PATENTED JUNE 9, 1874.

Patented in Canada May 20, 1875.

After being thoroughly tested for the last nine years, this Governor has gained a higher reputation than any other in the market. It is the only perfect Adjustable Valve made. Every Governor is alike reliable, and no misfit. Many of them have been in constant use nine years, and show no signs of failure. These Governors are all made with Balance Levers, for changing speed. A cord can be attached to the lever, and conveyed to any part of the building, if desired, by which the engine can be stopped in case of accident. I also manufacture

WARREN'S

CAM-PRESSURE SHINGLE PACKER

WHICH IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST IN THE MARKET.

Price, $18.00.

Shipped to any address on receipt of price. Parties preferring to make their own frames can get the castings fitted for $10.00.

FOWLERVILLE.

A thriving village on the D., L. & N. R. R., in the western part of Livingston county. It is in the township of Handy, and, according to the last census, has a population of 1,053, being the third town in size and importance in the county. It is 9 miles west of Howell, the county seat, 25 east of Lansing, and 61 northwest of Detroit.

A settlement was established here in 1850, and the village incorporated in 1870. Cedar river is crossed by the railroad here, and flows through the place, but does not afford water power, in the absence of which the manufactories, embracing 2 planing mills, a flouring mill, stave and heading factory and foundry, are operated by steam. The traffic of a large and flourishing agricultural section centers here, the shipments, composed largely of farm products, amounting in 1879 to 17,539 tons. Improved land in the vicinity averages $40 per acre, and unimproved $18. Fowlerville has two handsome churches, Baptist and Methodist, a good Union school building, and an opera house with a seating capacity of 700, a weekly newspaper, the Review, and 2 good hotels. The township has an indebtedness of $7,500, and the property in the village, real and personal, is assessed at a valuation of $190,000, which is below its value. A tri-weekly stage runs to Iosco, Plainfield, Stockbridge and Unadilla. Telegraph, railroad company's line and Atlantic & Pacific. Express, American. Mail, daily. George L. Fisher, postmaster.

GRAND HAVEN.

Is situated at the mouth of Grand river, on the shore of lake Michigan, and is one of the most important ports on the eastern shore of that lake. It is in the northeast corner of Ottawa county, of which it is the seat of justice, and is the western terminus of the D., G. H. & M. Ry, via which it is 31 miles west of Grand Rapids and 189 west of Detroit. It is also a station on the Grand Haven R. R., via which and the C. & W. M. R. R. it is 118 miles north of New Buffalo and 185 from Chicago. Besides its excellent railroad facilities, daily communication is afforded with Chicago and Milwaukee by the Goodrich line of steamers, and tri-weekly by Ganoe's line with Grand Rapids. The municipal government of the city is vested in a mayor, recorder, two supervisors, treasurer, marshal, city attorney, chief engineer fire department, street commissioner and director of the poor, who constitute the executive department, and whose terms expire first Monday in April, 1881, and a legislative department, consisting of eight aldermen, two from each ward, whose terms expire one-half in April, 1881, and the other in April, 1882. Lumber is the principal article of manufacture. There are several mills which turn out an aggregate of 1,500,000 feet per week. Fishing is an important interest, some seven or eight steam tugs and sail boats being engaged in this industry. Ship building is also carried on. Within the corporate limits are 12 churches, one Union and three ward school buildings, the former costing $50,000, a library containing 1,200 volumes, and a neat music hall. The Cutler House, erected at a cost of $200,000, is the leading hotel. Three weekly newspapers are published, the Grand Haven Herald (Republican), the News-Journal, and the Ottawa County Con- rier (Greenback). One of the attractive features of Grand Haven is its mineral springs. Spring lake, which lies adjacent, is a beautiful sheet of water, nine miles in length; it affords fine opportunities for fishing and sailing. In addition to these attractions, and to the broad area of lake Michigan, with its surf-bathing, Grand Haven is in the center of the great fruit-belt of Michigan. Land in the neighborhood is valued at from $30 to $60 per acre. Population, 5,000. Telegraph, Western Union. Express, American. Mail, daily, from all points. L. M. S. Smith, postmaster.

GRAND LEDGE.

Derives its name from the sourrounding bluffs which rise to a height of from 75 to 100 feet along the banks of the Grand river, which flows through the town. This is a fine stream, some 230 feet in width, which, by a substantial dam with a fall of 6 feet, is made to furnish one of the best water powers in the State, in part utilized by saw, flouring, planing and other mills. Extensive beds of sandstone, valuable for building purposes, are found in the immediate vicinity, underlying which is a stratum of excellent coal. Neither of these deposits has as yet been developed to any extent. The place has Methodist, Baptist, Congregational, Lutheran and Presbyterian churches, an efficient school system, and 2 grain elevators. Seven Islands, a pleasure resort just below the village, is an attractive feature. Two hotels, the Mineral House, overlooking the scenery of the islands, and several brick business blocks have been erected since our last issue. The village was settled in 1837, incorporated in 1871, and has a population of about 1,500. It is in Oneida township, near the northern line of Eaton county, and is a station on the D., L. & N. R. R., 11 miles west of Lansing, 26 southeast of Ionia and 96 from Detroit. Charlotte, the county seat, is 16 miles south. Lumber, staves, flour, grain, fruit and live stock are the leading shipments. The flouring mills of Kent, Hixson & Co., recently remodeled and enlarged, are doing a fine business. Express, American. Telegraph, Atlantic & Pacific. Mail, daily. J. S. Holmes, postmaster.

GRAND RAPIDS.

Is, next to Detroit, the principal city in the State. It is located on Grand river, the largest inland stream, at the head of navigation, and about 40 miles from its mouth. It is the county seat of Kent county, the metropolis of western Michigan, and contains a population variously estimated at from 33,000 to 40,000 inhabitants. Including the population of the immediate suburbs, the correct figures are closely in the neighborhood of 37,000. In Sol. S. Bateson & Bro., Merchant Tailors of Detroit, help to make Williamston a Fashionable City.

BEST QUALITY, LOWEST PRICES, Is the motto of the popular Music Store, 184 and 186 Woodward Avenue, Detroit. Roe Stephens 1864 the population was 9,000; in 1870, 16,000; in 1874, 27,000; which figures show that, at the lowest present estimate, the number of inhabitants has regularly doubled for the past two decades. The city is principally indebted for its rapid growth and great prosperity to (1) its location, (2) its fine water power, (3) its lumber interests, (4) its manufactures, and (5) the wide awake, enterprising character of its people. Its situation constitutes it the center of a vast extent of the finest agricultural country, and the natural base of supplies for the whole western and northern portion of the peninsula. Its water communication with lake Michigan, and liberal system of railroads, render the whole surrounding country tributary, and furnish every facility to the carrying on of its extensive commerce. The climate is mild and agreeable, and the rate of mortality compares favorably with that of other cities. The business houses are numerous, substantial and often elegant, its private residences tasteful and costly, and its public buildings all well adapted to their various uses. The Government building completed last year, and now occupied as postoffice, U. S. court room and offices, is a commodious and massive structure, costing nearly $200,000. The plaster quarries in the city are among the most extensive in the west, vast deposits of gypsum underlying large sections of land adjacent to the city. These furnish the very best of land and calcined plaster. The finest brick clay abounds, and an excellent quality of lime stone is taken from the bed of Grand river. The city is handsomely laid out on both sides of Grand river, and covers a total area of about 11 square miles. It is divided into 8 wards. The foreign element constitute about one-half of the total population, and may be divided principally into Hollanders, Germans and Irish, the former nationality predominating. Grand Rapids is emphatically a city of young men. It is largely settled by Eastern and "down Eastern" people, and the population combines in its characteristics the enterprise and dash of the New Yorker, with the thrift, intelligence and industry of the New Englander.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

The city is governed by the mayor and a board of 16 aldermen, a board of education of 17 members, a board of public works of 5 members, a board of health with 3 members, and a board of review and equalization of taxes of 3 members. The control of the police and fire department is lodged in a common council, consisting of the mayor and board of aldermen.

The police department is an efficient body, consisting of a chief and 19 men, elected annually by the common council. The fire department consists of a chief and 57 men, also chosen annually by the council. The force is kept in a state of perfect discipline, and the department is splendidly organized and equipped throughout. The apparatus consists of 3 steam and 1 chemical engine, 7 hose companies, 1 hook and ladder company, and a well operated electric alarm system. Upwards of $40,000 have been expended in the construction of engine houses, which are all models of their kind.

A reservoir with a capacity of 6,000,000 gallons, a settling basin which holds the same quantity, a pumping house and two engines of 1,000 horse-power each; about 22 miles of supply mains, and 300 hydrants, together make up an extensive and almost faultless system of water works, costing a total of about $500,000.

CITY FINANCES.

The city's debt is $432,000, on a total actual valuation of $30,000,000, which shows a reduction of nearly $100,000 within the past two years. The total general taxation for state, county, city and school purposes for 1880–1, was $342,062, or $161,160 for the city, 79,050 for the county, $39,602 for the state, and $62,250 for the schools.

THE JUDICIARY.

Four judges and more than 150 practicing lawyers reside in the city, and five courts have been established—the circuit and district courts by the general government, and the Kent circuit, the superior and the police courts by the State. The two last named are municipal courts.

SCHOOLS AND CHURCHES.

There are 16 graded schools, all fine buildings, costing about $350,000, employing 100 teachers, and seating about 5,000 children.

The city contains 35 church societies, to wit: Three Congregational, 3 Protestant Episcopal, 4 Methodist Episcopal, 2 Presbyterian, 6 Dutch Reformed, 3 Catholic, 1 Baptist, 1 Universalist, etc. The total valuation of church property in the city is considerably upward of $500,000. Twenty-nine of the societies occupy their own places of worship.

SEWERS AND STREETS.

Large sums of money have been expended in the construction of sewers, and the result is a splendid system, affording thorough drainage, and insuring general good health.

The city contains 130.50 miles of streets now opened for use, of which 62.88 are unimproved and 67.62 are improved.

Of the improved streets:

	Miles.
Graded and paved with wood	.15
Graded and paved with wood and stone	4.02
Graded and paved with stone	.96
Graded, graveled and gutters paved	24.99
Graded and graveled	28.64
Graded	8.86
Unimproved	62.88
Total	130.50

BANKS.

The banks include the First National, City National, Grand Rapids National, Farmers and Mechanics, and Grand Rapids Savings Bank. These five reliable institutions have an aggregate capital and surplus of about $1,500,000, and aggregate average discounts of $3,000,000.

NEWSPAPERS.

There are four dailies: The Eagle (Republican), the Democrat (Democratic), the Times (Independent), and the Leader (National-Greenback). Each of these dailies has connected with it a weekly. There is also one German and two Holland weeklies, the Saturday Evening Post and the Weekly Review, and a number of minor publications.

RAILROADS.

Grand Rapids is destined to be an important railroad center, and already can boast of six important lines of railway ingress and egress. These are the Grand Rapids & Indiana, the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee, the Chicago and West Michigan, the Grand River Valley Div. of the Michigan Central, the Kalamazoo Div. of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, and the Grand Rapids, Newaygo & Lake Shore railroad. Other and important lines are now in serious contemplation.

WATER POWER.

The water power is very extensive and well utilized. Canals, extending over long distances, have been constructed on both banks of Grand river, and these are thickly lined with mills and factories, giving employment to thousands of skilled mechanics and laborers. The East Side canal is one-half a mile long. The West Side canal is 3,300 feet long. The amount of fall is 12 feet; height of dams, 6½ feet.

COMMERCE.

The commercial interests of the city are very large and steadily increasing. There is scarcely a line of business but is well represented, and competition is sharp. The jobbing business has more than quadrupled within the past five years. There are now wholesalers in groceries, notions and fancy goods, meats, oysters and fish, hardware, liquors, cigars, books and stationery, drugs, saddlery hardware, glass and paints, dry goods, crockery, boots and shoes, clothing and spices—in all about 45 establishments. The retail establishments include 80 groceries, 16 dry goods stores, 14 clothing houses, 15 drug stores, 12 jewelry stores, 6 hat and cap stores, 6 crockery, 12 boot and shoe, and other lines in proportion.

MANUFACTURES.

Within the past decade Grand Rapids has been slowly but surely working its way to the front rank among the great manufacturing towns of the country. Although the furniture interest is by far the largest, many other lines are becoming prominent, and the results of the United States census show a prodigious advance in all branches. Lumber, lath and shingles are produced on a large scale, and from 35,000,000 to 50,000,000 feet is manufactured annually. The manufacture of drawn hair brushes alone employs $75,000 capital and over 300 hands. The Grand Rapids Boom Company handles from 60,000,000 to 80,000,000 feet of logs annually. The Grand Rapids Chair Company has a capital stock of $300,000, and employs 500 men. The Grand Rapids Gas Light Company has 17 miles of mains, and its capital stock is $100,000. The total annual product of plaster is from 50,000 to 60,000 tons. All kinds of agricultural implements are produced at various establishments. Six large flouring mills are in active operation. The Michigan Barrel Company employs 250 men in the manufacture of boxes, caddies, barrels, etc. One factory turns out from 3,000 to 4,000 farm wagons each year, and 24 minor establishments are devoted to the manufacture of wagons, buggies, sleighs, etc. A company engaged in the tanning of leather has $200,000 invested in the business. There are 7 sash, door and blind factories and planing mills, and 7 lumber and saw mills. Among other manufactured articles are burial cases, clothes pins, wooden bowls, tinware and galvanized iron, pails and tubs, cigar boxes, faucets, moldings and picture frames, flavoring extracts, brick, tile, chemicals, bed bottoms, trunks, harness, wire goods, stencils, excelsior, saws and edge tools, lime, potash, saleratus, carpet sweepers, baking powder, boots and shoes, confectionery, pumps, etc. There are, in all, as shown by the United States census, taken last June, 379 manufacturing establishments in Grand Rapids. The total capital invested is $4,719,873. The total number of hands employed is 6,914. The total annual wages paid foot up to $1,912,003. The total value of materials for the census year is estimated at $3,970,467. The total value of products is $7,276,486. In the furniture and upholstering trade alone there are engaged 19 establishments. The total capital invested is $1,478,456, the total number of hands is 2,282. The amount of wages is $661,037; the value of material, $856,720; the value of products, $1,892,792. This estimate, flattering as it is, does not include many new and large establishments, started within the past twelve months, and which, consequently, could not make returns for the census year to the special agent.

GENERALITIES.

There are twelve convents and private schools in the city.

There are 35 incorporated companies.

There are two city libraries, the Grand Rapids Public Library and the City Library Association. The former, under the control of the Board of Education, is free to the public, and contains about 12,000 carefully selected volumes.

The Grand Rapids Guard is one of the crack military organizations in the State.

Powers' Opera House is an elegant building and hall, provided with every convenience and capable of accommodating 1,000 people.

There are 25 hotels in the city, two of which are strictly first class.

There are four street railways running through the principal thoroughfares. Three of these are each two miles in length. The Reed's Lake road (having its eastern terminus at Reed's lake, a delightful summer resort, three miles from the city), is six miles in length.

The principal business streets have been closely built up, and are occupied by a very superior class of commercial establishments. Many of these are illuminated with the electric light, while double stores, plate glass windows, and stone sidewalks are common.

The grounds and buildings of the Western Michigan Agricultural Society, situated at the southern limit of the city, are admirable in their style and arrangement. The exhibition is held annually in September, which is always largely attended from all sections of the State.

The Grand Rapids Driving Park Association is composed of prominent citizens, and also holds an annual exhibition at the fair grounds which attracts the leading horsemen from all parts of the country.

The Western Union and the Atlantic & Pacific telegraph companies, and the American and the United States Express companies have offices and transact an immense business.

There are a very large number of secret, social and benevolent organizations in the city. The Masons and Odd Fellows are especially strong among the former.

The present status of Grand Rapids is most flattering in every regard, and the future destiny of the city must needs be a brilliant one. James Gallup, postmaster.

AND PRACTICAL TRAINING SCHOOL.

Sons and daughters educated for real life, for self-support, and business pursuits. Beautiful rooms and pleasant surroundings. The finest and most conveniently arranged in the United States. New, finely finished; warmed by steam; supplied with pure water: library and reading rooms. Not surpassed for thoroughness. Demands for graduates greater than the supply. Young men and ladies interested in a business education, and especially those who anticipate taking a business course now or at some future day, parents who have sons and daughters to educate, all should take pains to inform themselves of the relative merits of the various schools before entering any one of them. We extend a cordial invitation to all, and if after a visit to other institutions of a similar character you do not find this one superior, or find it in any way misrepresented, we will bear your traveling expenses from your homes here and back. Enclose stamp for College Journal containing particulars.

STEKETEE'S

PIN WORM

DESTROYER

Pin Worm Destroyer

Destroys all kinds of worms, including the Tape Worm, and especially adapted to destroy Pin Worms. My sales on this wonderful medicine are very large. The first bottle was sold about the 1st of January, 1880. My sales up to June 1, 1880, reached over 6,000 bottles. It acts as a physic. A great many are using this medicine instead of Pills. It creates no pains and is much cheaper physic than Pills.

Those who have used this medicine are free from Fits by its use. It is also recommended for the cure of various forms of Convulsions and Nervous Affections. It purifies the blood: it contains no Jalap or Calomel, nor any injurious ingredients; it is the cheapest Worm Medicine known.

It should be taken regularly, in order to derive any benefit. It should be taken in sugar, milk or syrup, and always before eating.

Ask your Druggists and Dealers for STEKETEE'S PIN WORM DESTROYER, and take no other. Do not let your Druggist induce you to take something else by their saying that "they have something as good." If they have not got it, then call or send to my place of business for it, or send for one-quarter, one-half or one dozen bottles. It will pay you. Again, I say, I have the only PIN WORM DESTROYER in the United States. Beware of Counterfeits. Every bottle has my hand-bill around it in the English, German and Holland languages. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Read what the People say of my Worm Destroyer.

Fairport, N. Y., Aug. 28, 1880.

MR. STEKETEE:

Dear Sir—You will excuse me that I did not write you sooner the good effects of the Worm Destroyer. It cured my little boy of all his nervous actions and brought away plenty of worms and phlegm. In two weeks he was another child: slept good, had a good color. His father said he never looked so good in his life.

Respectfully,
MRS. P. VAN LEEREN.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 31, 1880.

MR. GEO. G. STEKETEE:

Dear Sir—Your Worm Medicine is all you claim for it. I have used it in my family and would not do without it for anything, and have not been troubled since we used it. Yours truly,
LADD J. LEWIS.

Ann Arbor, Mich., A[illegible], 19, 1880.

Doc. Thomas Wilkinson says: "I [illegible] permitted to say your medicine is a dead sh[illegible] slaying its thousands."

Montpelier, Vt., Oct., 1880.

TO THE AFFLICTED:

This is to certify that for the past eight years I have been troubled with pin worms, and after using one bottle of Steketee's Pin Worm Destroyer I am entirely cured. The price, 25 cents per bottle, is too cheap. It is worth $100 to me.
W. NELSON PECK.

Northwest, Williams Co., O., July 13, 1880.

MR. STEKETEE:

I found your medicine to be all you recommended it to be. My health is better than it has been for a year.
DEMA KNAPP.

Grand Haven, Mich., Feb. 19, 1880.

MR. GEO. G. STEKETEE:

Dear Sir—I used your Worm Destroyer for one of my children, who was relieved in a very short time of a great many of these troublesome customers, and am pleased to recommend your medicine to the public.

Very respectfully,
REV. VAN DER VRIES.

Sent on receipt of 30 c[illegible]s. Beware of counterfeits and imitations. None genuine unless you find it as above described.

GEO. G. STEKETEE, Sol[illegible] Propr. 89 Monroe Street, GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.

GRASS LAKE.

A pleasant, incorporated village of about 800 inhabitants, on the main line of the M. C. R. R., 65 miles west of Detroit and 11 east of Jackson. It is in Grass Lake township, in the eastern part of Jackson county, in a very fertile and well settled section of country, of which wheat, grass, cattle, sheep and hogs are staples, though all the cereals and potatoes are cultivated In being without water power the village lacks one of the essential features of business prosperity, and not being a manufacturing point it depends chiefly for its support upon the surrounding agricultural interests. A manufactory of cooperage and a flour mill are the only industries. The place has 3 churches, Methodist, Baptist and Congregational, all handsome buildings, and a graded school. The price of land hereabouts ranges from $75 to $100 per acre. Grass Lake was first settled in 1829 and was incorporated as a village in 1871. Express, American. Telegraph, Western Union. L. GREENVILLE.

The metropolis of Montcalm county, is pleasantly situated on a romantic bend in Flat river, about 20 miles above its confluence with the Grand. It is in Eureka township, in the southwestern part of the county, and is an important station on the D., L. & N. R. R., 18 miles southwest of Stanton, the county seat, 21 northwest of Ionia, and 141 from Detroit. Greenville obtained a city charter in 1870, and has a population of 3,200. Its municipal affairs are managed by a mayor, city clerk, collector, treasurer, police justice, city attorney, marshal and surveyor, their terms expiring in April of each year. There are also 6 aldermen, two from each ward, one-half of whose terms expire each year. The total financial liabilities of the city consist of a balance of $8,000 of school bonds. The city is lighted with gas, has an organized fire department, and many substantial features of a public and private character. There are 6 churches, Methodist, Baptist, Free Will Baptist, Catholic, Congregational, Episcopal, three commodious school buildings, one of which cost $30,000, a ladies' library of 2,000 volumes, a national and 2 private banks, 2 small daily and 2 weekly newspapers, representing the various political organizations, 2 good hotels, a neat opera house, lodges of Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Knights of

GREENWOOD.

Also known as Summit, is a village of 100 inhabitants, settled in 1874, in Edwards township, near the southern line of Ogemaw county. It is a station on the Mackinaw Div. of the M. C. R. R., 10 miles below West Branch, the county seat, and 44 above Bay City. The large lumber mill formerly located here, and which was burned in 1879, has not been rebuilt, but arrangements are being completed for building 3 shingle mills during the season of 1881. Canthooks and peevies are the only manufactures, and with lumbermen's supplies and logs are the shipments. This is one of the best points for sportsmen along the line of road, game of all kinds being found in great abundance. During the lumbering season, 40 or 50 camps, employing about 2,000 men, are established in the heavy pine timbered region surrounding the village, and their cuttings are principally sent by the Rifle and Tittabawassee rivers to Bay City and Saginaw. Express, American. Telegraph, Western Union. Nearest banks at Bay City. Mail, daily. George M. Horton, postmaster.

GRINDSTONE CITY.

Is situated in Port Austin township, Huron county, on the shore of lake Huron, 22 miles northeast of Bad Axe, the county seat, 24 above Sand Beach, and 90 above Port Huron. The settlement was established in 1850, and now numbers about 250 inhabitants. It takes its name from the extensive quarries of peculiar stone worked here, of the kind specially adapting it for manufacture into grindstones and whetstones. There are two firms engaged in this industry. Salt also is manufactured. Grindstones, scythe stones, salt and cedar posts are shipped. Nearest bank at Sand Beach, to which place and Port Austin a mail stage runs daily; fare, $1 and 50 cents respectively. Telegraph, Western Union. James Greene, postmaster.

HANCOCK.

A flourishing village of 3,000 inhabitants, platted in 1858, and located on the shore of Portage lake, in the northern part of Houghton county, 36 miles north of L'Anse, the terminus of the M., H. & O. R. R., and 94 northwest of Marquette. It is the southern terminus of the Mineral Range R. R., a narrow or three-foot gauge road, 12½ miles in length, extending to Calumet, and a road which, for its financial success, has hardly been equaled by any in the country.

Like Houghton, the county seat, directly opposite and connecting by toll bridge, Hancock is situated on a hill-side, rising to the height of 500 feet above the lake level. It has 4 churches, Catholic, Congregational, Lutheran and Methodist, a good graded school, 2 steam saw-mills, a large foundry and machine shop, copper smelting works, and several extensive stamp mills, belonging to different mines in the vicinity. It is the location of the famous Quincy copper mine, one of the most prosperous in the upper peninsula, second only to the wonderful Calumet and Hecla, and also of the Franklin and Pewabic, operated under one management as the Franklin-Pewabic mine. Express, American; Telegraph, Northwestern. Mortimer L. Cardell, postmaster.

HARRISVILLE.

A village, township and postoffice in Alcona county, situated on the west shore of lake Huron, about 200 miles north of Detroit, 100 north of Bay City and 75 northeast of Standish. During the season of navigation the village has daily communication by boat with Bay City, and in winter with Standish by stage. It is the seat of justice for the county, and contains a good court house and jail, a school house of three grades, an agricultural hall, 2 hotels, Methodist, Catholic and Presbyterian churches, the latter a neat structure, costing $5,000, 3 small public halls, the nucleus of a library, now containing 300 volumes, and a weekly Republican newspaper. In manufactories it has 2 steam saw-mills, 1 grist mill, 1 planing mill and 1 shingle mill. The principal business houses are 3 general stores, 3 grocers, a printing office, and offices of Holt's and the American Express and Western Union Telegraph. Assessed valuation of real and personal property, about $150,000. Bonded indebtedness, $3,000. Population, 800. The general business of the county is farming and lumbering. Oscoda county is attached, for judicial purposes, to Alcona county. A State road is nearly completed to the Au Sable river, and Oscoda county and the State and Government lands are open to settlers. The soil is a rich, sandy loam, valued, unimproved, at $3 to $5 per acre. Fare to Alpena, by stage, $3; to Au Sable, $1.50; to Standish, $5.50. Mail, daily. Henry F. Colwell, postmaster.

HART.

The seat of justice for, and most enterprising and progressive place in, Oceana county, is an unincorporated village, having a population of 700, in Hart township, 8 miles southeast of Pentwater, 40 north of Muskegon, and 235 from Detroit. In the summer of 1880 a branch of the C. & W. M. R. R. was constructed from Mears to this place, and will ultimately be pushed northward to Manistee. The soil in the vicinity is a sandy loam, producing wheat, plums, peaches and other fruits. The south branch of Pentwater river furnishes good water power, utilized by Messrs. Wigton & Bosworth in their flouring and saw-mills. There is also a planing mill and one of staves, heading, hoops and hardwood lumber, both run by steam. The village has a bank, 2 weekly papers, 2 churches and a good public school. The shipments are flour, wheat, fruit, lumber, staves, heading, hoops and bark. Telegraph, Western Union. Express, American. Mail, daily.

HASTINGS.

The county seat of Barry county, was platted in 1837, under the supervision of E. P. Hastings, a former well known citizen of Detroit, whence it takes its name. It is on the Thornapple river, in the township of Hastings, and is a prominent station on the Grand Rapids Div. of the M. C. R. R., by which it is 32 miles southeast of Grand Rapids, 62 northwest of Jackson, and 131 via Lansing and Charlotte, from Detroit. The river here has a fall of several feet, but has not been improved for manufacturing purposes. On two small tributaries, however, which unite with it in the village, power has been utilized. Hastings is beautifully laid out, the streets being wide and running at right angles. It is well supplied with public squares and parks, and has churches representing the Baptist, Catholic, Episcopal, Methodist and Presbyterian denominations, good schools and substantial business interests. Population, 2,540. Bonded debt in school bonds, $35,000. Five weekly newspapers are published here, namely: The Democrat, Sentinel, Banner & Journal, and the Temperance Magazine and Home Gem. Stages run to Lowell daily, to Hickory Corners semi-weekly, and tri-weekly to Bedford and Woodland Center. Express, American. Mail, daily. Telegraph, Western Union. John M. Nevins, postmaster.

ALABASTINE

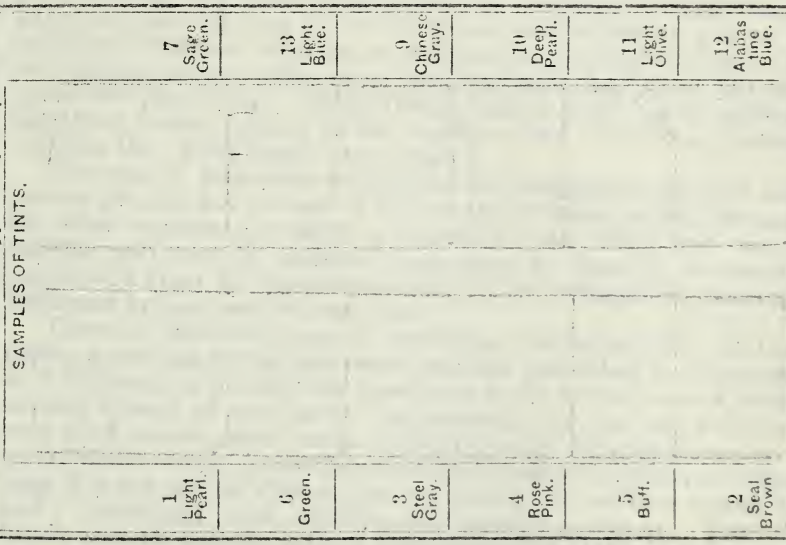
A Superior Substitute for Kalsomine, Wall Paper, &c.

Alabastine is a Cement,

And is the Only Preparation based upon the proper principles to constitute a Durable Finish for Walls,

And is Entirely Different from all other Preparations Applied with a Brush,

It can be Mixed and Applied by Anyone.



These samples are made by spreading ALABASTINE on paper with a common Kalsomine brush.

Ready for Use by Adding Hot Water.

Fifty cents worth of ALABASTINE will cover 50 square yards of average wall with two coats: and one coat will produce better work than can be done with one coat of any other preparation, on the same surface.

ALABASTINE IS THE BEST FINISH FOR ALL THE FOLLOWING SURFACES:

A Soiled "Hard-Finish,"

PAINTED WALLS, WOOD CEILINGS, OVER OLD WALL PAPER,

On Brick, or on Rough Boards, Rough Plaster, &c.

WETTING ALABASTINE DOES NOT SPOT IT.

Put up in 5 lb. Packages, 20 in a case, and in Barrels and Half Barrels.

MANUFACTURED ONLY BY THE

ALABASTINE CO.,

M. B. CHURCH, Manager. Grand Rapids, Mich.

ALABASTINE.

While Alabastining is superior to all other ways of refinishing walls, such as Kalsomining, Papering, Painting, &c., it is also the best, cheapest, and by far the most durable finish on a Sand Finish, or Brown Plaster.

FOR NEW WALLS!

It is well known that the finish known as "hard finish," or "putty coat," is not a durable one, and that many times it is soiled by workmen, and cracked by shrinking of timbers in the building, so as to require coating with something before the building is ready for occupancy, or soon after, as it is delicate and brittle and is put on good buildings before the finishing of wood-work, painting etc., and before the building is thoroughly dried out from being dampened and swelled by the wet plastering. While the Alabastine finish can be applied the last thing before moving in the building, and the cracks invariably found in the "hard finish," are avoided.

The coat of Alabastine is thin and not designed to fill and smooth uneven plaster, but one coat of tint, or two of white, mixed the same as for other surfaces, produces a beautiful, even finish, and the most durable, and may be renewed from time to time by inexperienced hands, and every additional coat adds to the strength of the wall; is hardened by age, and will not fade.

There are different ways of plastering walls for this Alabastine finish, according to the amount of expense and labor to be expended, as it will make a durable and handsome finish on one coat of common mortar, floated off and made comparatively smooth, and a better one on a good smooth sand finish as usually made for nice papering. A good finish is made by putting on the first coat of ordinary mortar and after it is dry put on what a plasterer would call between a sand finish and a "browning" coat, and float it off good or trowel it. This latter, two coat work, may be made a first class wall by taking care to "gage" it just right with lime, (and sometimes a little stucco is used to set it), smoothing it when it is set just enough to work well, &c.

A good man who is used to the brush will put on from 300 to 400 square yards of this Alabastine tinted finish in a day, on the new wall where only one coat is necessary, if tinted, and the material will not cost more than $1.50 or $2.50, unless the wall is very rough.

The new work must be thoroughly dry before applying Alabastine.

NOTE.—The plasters do not all favor this process, as they think it will throw the finishing out of their hands, and that there will not be as much work to do if they do do the Alabastining; but if they would take hold of it before the people, do it themselves or hire green hands, they would find it to their advantage, and many buildings would be finished with it that are now left without finishing.

HILLSDALE.

Is situated on the St. Joseph river, in the township and county of Hillsdale, of which it is the judicial seat. It is a pleasantly located and thriving place of about 4,000 inhabitants, originally settled in 1832 and incorporated a city in 1869. The D., H. & S. W. R. R. intersects the L. S. & M. S. Ry here, the two lines affording direct communication to all points. The city is 30 miles south of Jackson, 91 southwest of Detroit, 65 northwest of Toledo, and 178 east of Chicago. The manufactures consist of flour, castings, sash and blinds, edge tools, extension tables, beer, etc. Shipments, flour, produce, grain, fruits, furniture and live stock. Aggregate exports for 1880, 11,342 tons. Bonded indebtedness, $16,000. Assessed value of real and personal property, $2,062,240 (full value). Farms in the neighborhood are valued at from $60 to $85 per acre. Among the prominent features, private and public, are 8 churches, Adventist, Methodist, Lutheran, Presbyterian, Catholic, Episcopal, Universalist, and Free Will Baptist, 2 national banks, 4 newspapers, the Standard (Republican), the Weekly Business (National), the Herald, and the Democrat, 2 good hotels, a large public hall, 3 ward schools, a good Union school, and a Free Will Baptist institution known as Hillsdale College. The agricultural society's grounds and appurtenances are valued at $20,000. Numerous improvements of a very substantial nature have been made here during the past year, and others are in progress, indicating a gratifying and healthy growth. Stage daily to Cambria Mills, fare 50 cents, and to Pioneer, Ind., and intermediate points, tri-weekly; fare to Pioneer $1,25, Amboy $1. Frontier and Jefferson 50 cents. Express, American and United States. Telegraph, Western Union. Eli Van Valkenburg, postmaster.

HOLLAND.

Was first settled in 1846 by a colony of Hollanders, which nationality still largely predominates. It is a flourishing city of nearly 3,000 inhabitants in Holland township, Ottawa county, situated at the junction of the C. & W. M. R. R., the Grand Rapids branch of said line and the G. H. R. R., 90 miles above New Buffalo, 20 below Grand Haven, 25 southwest of Grand Rapids, 23 northwest of Allegan and 180 from Detroit, via Lansing, Ionia and Grand Rapids.

In 1867 the place was incorporated as a city, and was almost destroyed by fire in 1871, but has since been rebuilt in a more substantial manner. It has a good natural harbor at the head of Black lake, which is being improved by the general government, and in which a permanent channel of 9 feet will be obtained during the coming summer. Prominent among the architectural features of Holland are its churches and educational institutions; of the former there are 3 Reform, 1 True Reform, 1 Episcopal and 1 Methodist. Besides a Union and a ward school, both of which have a large attendance, the town is the seat of Hope College, which was located here in 1851, and has recently been declared open to students of both sexes. It received some 125 students during 1880. The courses are thorough and the faculty able, hence those graduated from this school of learning attain high rank in the scholastic and mercantile world. The fame of this college is far-reaching, as evidenced by the appearance on the roll of three Japanese.

Four newspapers are published, De Grondwet, De Wachter, De Hope and the Holland City News. The assessed valuation of real and personal property, at one-third of its actual worth, is $267,625, and the total indebtedness $3,400 for city improvements and $13,000 in school bonds, the latter payable in ten years, interest at 6 per cent. Holland is becoming a prominent grain market, and wheat, with leather, fruit and general farm products, are largely shipped. The leading manufactures are wooden ware and leather. The Cappon & Bertsch Leather Co., doing an extensive business in the latter line, this firm have made great improvements on their tannery property (about $12,000) during the past year, and in a recent adjudication were awarded a gold medal for best results in non-acid sole leather above all competition in the United States. Express, American and United States. Telegraph, Western Union. Stage to Graafschap, 3 miles, daily, and to Ventura, 7 miles, Wednesday and Saturday. Wm. Verbeek, postmaster.

HOMER.

The fourth town in population and importance in Calhoun county, is situated at the crossing of the Air Line Div. M. C. R. R. and the Lansing Div. L. S. & M. S. Ry, 23 miles west of Jackson, 13 southeast of Marshall, 46 south of Lansing, 19 above Hillsdale, and 99 west of Detroit. It is in the township of Homer, in the southeast corner of the county, where a settlement was established in 1832. Two years later a village was platted here, and in 1871 it obtained an act of incorporation. Homer, according to the census of 1880, has a population of 900; it is the center of a highly fertile and well cultivated region of country, and is an important shipping point for agricultural products, especially wheat. The total exports in 1879 were 7,577 tons. A branch of the Kalamazoo river flows through the village, and the St. Joseph approaches within a mile of it. The former furnishes good water power, operating 1 saw and 2 flour mills. The place contains Episcopal, Methodist Episcopal and Presbyterian churches, a good graded school, an organized library association, 2 banks, 2 hotels and a weekly newspaper, the Index. Express, American and United States. Telegraph, Western Union. Wm. J. Webster, postmaster.

HORTON'S BAY.

On the northeastern shore of Pine lake, in the northern central part of Charlevoix county, is a settlement of perhaps 20 people and the location of a recently established postoffice, having a weekly mail delivery. It is 10 miles southeast of Charlevoix.

HOUGHTON.

A thriving place of about 2,500 inhabitants and the county seat of Houghton county, is located on the south shore of Portage lake, 14 miles from the mouth of Portage river, 10 from lake Superior on the west via canal, and 95 northwest of Marquette via L'A. & H. Transportation Co. and M., H. & O. R. R. The settlement was formed in 1852 and became an incorporated village in 1861. It is in the midst of the lake Superior copper region, a strip of country 4 to 6 miles in width, extending from southwest to northeast through the entire length of the Keweenaw peninsula and beyond. This range is very rich in copper, and some of the most productive mines in the world are located in the vicinity of the village. The only ones now being operated (1880), on the south side of the lake, are the Atlantic, Huron and Isle Royal mines. The village occupies a rather steep hillside, and is almost isolated by a broad stretch of rough timbered country. It contains the court house, jail, Catholic, Episcopal and Methodist churches, a bank, a large public school building and 4 hotels, the Douglass being a first-class and well kept house. A toll-bridge, erected at a cost of $50,000, affords communication with Hancock, three-fourths of a mile distant, on the north side of the lake. A copper stamp works and a safety fuse factory are located here, and an excellent weekly newspaper is published. In winter a stage line, owned by the L'Anse & Houghton Transportation Co., connects with Torch Lake and L'Anse. All freights shipped after November 1st are subject to the close of navigation. Express, American. Telegraph, Northwestern. Mail, daily. A. Douglass, postmaster.

HOWELL.

The judicial seat of Livingston county, is an attractive village containing, according to the census of 1880, a population of 2,276. It is centrally located in Howell township, on the line of the D., L. & N. R. R., 32 miles southeast of Lansing, about the same distance northeast of Jackson, and 51 northwest of Detroit. Wheat is the great staple agricultural product of this section, as high as 40 bushels to the acre being grown in good seasons. Very good water power is obtained at a point about one mile north of the village, where flour and saw-mills are located. Among the public buildings are 5 churches, Baptist, Catholic, Methodist, Presbyterian and Episcopal, all of which are neat and substantial. There is a large graded school building employing ten teachers, and costing to build $40,000. The court house and 3 large brick blocks of recent construction are also worthy of note. The Masons, Odd Fellows and Grangers have prosperous organizations, and the press is represented by 2 weekly papers, The Livingston Republican and the Democrat. The original settlement was formed in 1828, the village laid off in 1835 and incorporated in 1863, the railroad was opened to it in 1871. The real and personal property of the village has a valuation of $1,200,000, and the indebtedness consists of bonds issued in February, 1868, for $27,000, with interest at

HUBBARDSTON.

A thriving village of 700 inhabitants, originally settled in 1855, and incorporated in 1868, is situated on a tributary of Maple river, known as Fish creek, in North Plains township, northeast corner of Ionia county. It is the manufacturing center and source of supplies for quite an extensive region of excellent farming country. Among its industries are a manufactory of windmills, a saw-mill, a flouring mill, a planing mill, sash and door factory, and cider mill. It has Catholic, Methodist and Congregational churches, a graded school of 3 teachers, a private bank, and the usual mercantile branches, which are represented by several good stores. By a fire which occurred here in the fall of 1877, the principal hotel and several other buildings were destroyed. Hubbardston is on the daily mail stage route from Pewamo north to Carson City, 7 miles from the former place, which is its nearest station, on the D., G. H. & M. Ry. It is 17 miles northeast of Ionia, and 119 from Detroit. Improved farms command from $35 to $70 acre. Stage fare to Pewamo, 50 cents; to Carson City, $1. J. R. Abbott, postmaster.

IONIA.

A thriving and attractive city of 4,167 inhabitants, is situated on Grand river, near the geographical center of Ionia county, of which it is the seat of justice. The land upon which the town now stands was taken up in 1832, and in the spring following a settlement was begun by a colony under the leadership of Samuel Dexter, from Boston, Mass. The settlement increased slowly until 1836, when a village was platted and the county seat was located here. In 1857 the D. & M. Ry reached the settlement, and in the same year a village charter was obtained. In 1865 it was reincorporated by special legislation. In 1869 the Ionia & Lansing, now a part of the D., L. & N. R. R., was completed, and in the same year a city charter was obtained. Ionia is noted for the beauty of its location and surroundings, and for its handsome residences and churches. It lies partly at the foot of a high bluff, having on the south and east a wide expanse of level and extremely fertile land, through which the river courses its way. On the bluff, which is partly within the limits of the corporation, are many of the finest residences in the place. These are chiefly built of a light-colored brick made from a clay found in the vicinity. The business and public buildings are also largely built of this material. The city has nine religious organizations, Baptist, Catholic, Christian, Congregational, Dutch Reform, Episcopal, Lutheran, Methodist and Presbyterian. Most of these have elegant and all of them neat places of worship. The educational interests are represented by a graded school building, costing $35,000, and 2 ward schools. Just west of the city is the new Intermediate State Prison, an institution designed to relieve the Jackson prison of the less heinous class of offenders. Present bonded indebtedness of city, $4,000; assessed valuation, $1,700,000. Among the buildings erected during the past 2 years, Weber's brown stone block, a splendid structure, is the most noted. One daily and 3 weekly newspapers are published. There are 3 banks, 2 national and 1 private, a hall with a seating capacity of 700, and 2 first-class hotels, the Bailey House being considered the best. The shops of the D., L. & N. R. R. are located here. An abundant supply of excellent water is obtained from a never-failing spring on the hill north of the city. Besides the two intersecting railroads, a branch of the D., L. & N. connects Ionia with Stanton and Edmore, commanding thereby an immense lumber business. The soil in the vicinity is somewhat gravelly, but is excellent for farming purposes, all the cereals, grass, potatoes and other root crops and apples being successfully grown. Telegraph, Atlantic & Pacific and Western Union. Express, American. Alexander H. Heath, postmaster.

ITHACA.

The county seat of Gratiot county, an incorporated village of 800 population, is located in each of the four townships of Arcada, Emerson, Newark and North Star, at the exact center of the county. It is not on any stream, and is at yet without a direct railroad outlet, but it has considerable manufacturing, and is destined to become an important business center. Among the interests here are 2 banks, 2 weekly newspapers, the Gratiot County Democrat (Democratic) and the Gratiot County Journal (Republican), 2 hotels, a neat opera house, seating 600, Baptist, Methodist, Congregational, Adventist, and Presbyterian churches, a graded school of four rooms, a handsome court house, and several fine business blocks and dwellings of recent construction. Ithaca is in a high, rolling farming country, with rich friable soil, improved farms ranging in value from $20 to $50 per acre, unimproved from $7 to $15. Stages run to St. Louis, 8 miles north, and to St. Johns, 22 miles south, daily. Telegraph, Western Union via St. Louis. The settlement was formed in 1855, and incorporated in 1868. It has a daily mail. A. A. Wood, postmaster.

JACKSON.

The first white settlement on the site of what is now the city of Jackson was made as early as 1829, Horace Blackman of Tioga county, N. Y., and some others being the first to locate here. They traveled from Ann Arbor to this point on an Indian trail through an unbroken wilderness, reaching here on the third day of July of the above year. Upon inspecting the locality it was discovered to be a favorite camping ground of the Indians, some nine or ten trails from different points meeting here. Believing that it would eventually become an important commercial center Mr. Blackman determined to locate, and after a brief sojourn he returned to Ann Arbor, whence he proceeded to Monroe and obtained from the Government a duplicate patent of certain lands which he had staked out. Soon afterwards, with a brother, he returned and erected a log cabin. From this time forward other people from the east began to appear, and it was only a short time before the future success of Jackson as an interior commercial center was assured.

PICKLES AND VINEGAR, J. J. WILSON, Manufacturer of Pickles, Vinegar, Chow Chow, Catsup, Sauces, etc. No. 21 N. Clinton Street, CHICAGO, Ill.

CHEW GLOBE FINE CUT. Globe Tobacco Co. DETROIT.

In the year 1838, by an act of the Legislature, the State Prison was located at this place, and its erection soon after commenced. When first organized as a village the place was called Jacksonburg, but in 1838 the Legislature passed an act changing it to Jackson. In the month of December, 1841, the Michigan Central Railroad was finished to this place, and trains began running regularly before the close of the year. In 1843 the village of Jackson was incorporated by act of the Legislature. In 1856 the coal mines of Jackson first excited the practical attention of our capitalists, and now there are 5 mines in active operation within the city limits, forming a very important element in its prosperity. In 1857 the Jackson branch of the Michigan Southern & Northern Indiana railway (now the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern) was completed to Jackson and opened for business. Jackson was incorporated as a city by act of the Legislature February 14th, of the same year. The Jackson, Lansing & Saginaw railroad (now called the Saginaw Division of the Michigan Central), was completed to Mason in December, 1865, and was completed to the Saginaws in December, 1867. The Grand River Valley railroad (now called the Grand Rapids Division of the Michigan Central), was completed to Grand Rapids in the spring of 1870. The Air Line railroad (now called the Air Line Division of the Michigan Central), was completed to Niles in February, 1871. The Fort Wayne, Jackson & Saginaw (now the Fort Wayne & Jackson railroad) was completed to Fort Wayne in December, 1870. In 1871 the extensive machine and other shops of the Michigan Central Railroad Company and its branches, were located here, and Jackson was also made the western terminus of the eastern division and the eastern terminus of the western division of the main line. These changes in the management of the Michigan Central brought a large number of skilled artisans and laborers to the city, as well as a great many men who were engaged in various capacities in running the trains of the various divisions. The aggregate amount now paid each month by the Michigan Central Company to its employes at this point is about sixty thousand dollars. The leading manufactures consist of chemicals, paper pulp, sewer pipe, pottery, artificial stone, brick, wagons, furniture, cooperage, agricultural implements, boots and shoes, middlings purifiers, cigars, engines and boilers, wood and paper boxes, corsets, with the usual number of planing mills, flouring mills, etc. Jackson has 1 Adventist, 4 Baptist, 1 Catholic, 2 Congregational, 1 Evangelical, 1 Hebrew, 1 Unitarian, 1 German Lutheran, 3 Methodist, and 2 Protestant Episcopal churches, among whose organizations are several of the finest church edifices in the State; two of these, the Baptist and Methodist, are surpassed by but few, even in the larger cities. The school facilities of the city are unusually advantageous, there being two main buildings of large capacity and a sufficient number of substantial branch structures to accommodate all parts of the city, even in its remotest suburbs. The city is amply supplied with water, both for public and domestic purposes, by the Holly system, from the Grand river, which has its source a few miles to the south, and is very pure and in abundant supply at this point. There are two enterprising daily newspapers at Jackson, the Patriot, published by Carlton & Van Antwerp, and the Citizen, published by James O'Donnell. There are also very large and creditable weeklies issued from both these offices, and one German weekly, the Michigan Volksfreund, published by Rudolph Worch. The present population of the city is 16,500. Telegraph, Western Union. Express, American and United States. Wm. L. Seaton, postmaster.

KALAMAZOO.

One of the most flourishing and attractive of the larger towns of Michigan; is the county seat of Kalamazoo county. It occupies a site of remarkable beauty, on the west bank of the Kalamazoo river, in the midst of a wealthy agricultural section of country, and is noted for the beauty of its broad, finely shaded streets, its handsome churches, substantial business houses and elegant residences. Titus Bronson, the first white settler, located here in 1829, and was for a time quite prominent in the young settlement, but afterward, losing all his property, he died in Connecticut in extreme poverty. The village, originally called Bronson, was organized in 1831. In 1839 the population was 400. In 1843 it became incorporated. In 1844 it had increased to 1,500. In 1846 railroad communication was established, and from that time the village grew with increased vigor and rapidity. Its population, according to the census of 1880, numbers 12,078. In nearly all of the essentials Kalamazoo is a full-fledged city. It is, however, as yet an incorporated village, and is governed by a president and 8 trustees. Its police force is efficient, is uniformed and under the control of a marshal. In addition to its police force it has a paid fire department with a force of 53 men, and also has a complete system of water works on the Holly system. These works were erected, buildings included, at a cost of $100,000. As a railroad center it is surpassed only by Detroit and Grand Rapids. The roads centering here or passing through the town are the main line of the M. C. R. R., the G. R. & I., the Kalamazoo Div. of the L. S. & M. S., and the South Haven Div. of the M. C. R. R. It is expected that the K., L. & H. R. R. will in due time be completed, thus giving ingress and egress at every point of the compass. By the above lines it is 39 miles east of South Haven, 35 north of Sturgis, 48 south of Grand Rapids, 37 north of White Pigeon, 144 west of Detroit, and 140 east of Chicago. Among the prominent features of the place are its educational institutions, among which are the Michigan Female Seminary, modeled after the famous Mt. Holyoke Seminary, Massachusetts, the

J. J. WILSON, Manufacturer of the celebrated ARROW BRAND Pickles, Vinegar; White Wine, Cider, and Double Strength Vinegar. No. 21 North Clinton Street, CHICAGO, Ill.

SMOKE WINDSOR MIXTURE, Globe Tobacco Co. DETROIT.

Kalamazoo College, chartered in 1855 and founded by the Baptists of Michigan, a Roman Catholic school attached to the church, and others. In the above institutions the course of study is practical and thorough. Of its free school system Kalamazoo is justly proud. Six buildings are occupied for free school purposes, and it is estimated that the number of children in attendance, ranging in age from 5 to 20 years, is over 3,000. The cash valuation of free school property is estimated at $80,400. These schools are well supplied with all the modern auxiliaries for teaching, such as a reference library and philosophical and chemical apparatus. Another prominent feature of the place, and which is an indication of its cultured tastes, is its district library, which contains at the present date 7,900 volumes. The library is free to all residents of the district.

Three excellent newspapers are published, the Gazette (Dem.), the Telegraph (Rep.), and the Weekly Mail. The two former publish daily and weekly editions.

The village possesses 15 church edifices, costing from $10,000 to $40,000 each. Of these 2 are Baptist, 2 Congregational, 2 Episcopal, and 1 each German Lutheran, Jewish, Methodist Episcopal, Mission Chapel, Presbyterian, Reformed, Roman Catholic, True Dutch Reformed and Unitarian.

There are also lodges of all the prominent secret societies and a number of others, the most important being the Ladies' Library Association, with its collection of 2,800 volumes, and the Young Men's Library Association, which has 3,000 books on its shelves. Kalamazoo also has a well armed, equipped and drilled military company, the Kalamazoo Light Guard, and which forms a part of the Second Regiment of Michigan State troops. It has 3 bands of music. The public buildings of Kalamazoo are not numerous, but it possesses a jail, which was erected at a cost of $40,000, a court house, Corporation Hall, and the Michigan State Asylum for the Insane, located on the hill west of the town, and which commands a magnificent view of country to the eastward, of 15 or 20 miles. The commercial and manufacturing interests of the town are varied and commensurate for a place of its importance. It has 2 national banks, each with a capital of $100,000 and a surplus of an equal amount. There is also the Kalamazoo City Bank, capital $60,000. The Indian name Ke-Kan-Amazoo, from which Kalamazoo is derived, has reference to the river, and signifies "Boiling Pot." A mail stage runs to Richland, 10 miles, daily, and to Prairieville, 22 miles, tri-weekly. Telegraph, Western Union and Atlantic & Pacific. Express, American and United States. Lucien B. Kendall, postmaster.

THE KALKASKA LEADER

PUBLISHED THURSDAYS, BY

DENNIS & TINKLEPAUGH.

Is one of the leading newspapers of the famous Grand Traverse Region, and has a large and rapidly increasing circulation, both local and foreign. As an advertising medium it is especially valuable, and is extensively patronized by business men at home and abroad, as its well filled advertising columns will attest. In politics the LEADER believes in the wholesome doctrines of the Republican party, and is frank, fearless and outspoken in support of its political convictions. Published entirely at home, its columns are always within the control of its managers, and everything objectionable is carefully excluded. The Leader Office has a well supplied job department, and all kinds of job work are neatly and promptly executed at reasonable rates. Parties desirous of securing cheap homes in this fertile and healthy region, would do well to subscribe for the Leader. Subscription price, $1.50 per year. Advertising rates made known on application. All letters of enquiry cheerfully and promptly answered. In writing, address THE KALKASKA LEADER, KALKASKA, MICH.

LANSING.

Lansing, the capital of the State of Michigan, is located in the township of Lansing, the northwest corner town of Ingham county, at the confluence of the Grand and Cedar rivers, and near the geographical center of the lower peninsula. It is situated upon a beautiful site, well elevated above the streams, moderately undulating, with broad streets and avenues crossing each other at right angles, nearly all of which are graded, and many of which are lined on either side with forest trees, now of sufficient size to afford a luxurious shade in summer, some of which are now well paved. Washington avenue, a mile and a half long, seven rods wide, and as level as a house floor, is one of the finest streets in America. The principal portion of the city is situated in a horseshoe bend of the Grand river, which encircles it on three sides, affording fine facilities for skating in winter, boating in summer, and furnishing the city with ice and abundant water power. The city boasts many fine public and private buildings, enjoys a prosperous trade with the flourishing surrounding country, and is rapidly increasing in wealth, trade and population.

When the State Capitol was located here in 1847, Lansing was a dense, unbroken wilderness. There are now living here citizens still in the prime of life who were among the very earliest pioneers, among whom is Hon. John M. French, who was one of the commissioners appointed by the state to appraise the city lots, the capitol having been located upon the school section of the township. Since that time the growth of the place has been steady, healthful and permanent. The legislature assembled here in 1848 in a wooden structure hastily erected for the purpose, upon a plat from which the forest had been hastily cleared away. In 1859 it was incorporated as a city, with 3,085 inhabitants. In 1870 the population was 5,243, in 1874 it was 7,445, and in 1880 it was 8,326.

RAILROADS.

Seven different lines of railroads centering here make it one of the most important railroad centers of the state, and easy of access from all directions.

In 1861 the Jackson, Lansing & Saginaw railroad was opened to Owosso, 28 miles north, when connection was made with the Detroit & Milwaukee road, and relieved the lumbering stage coach as a means of communication between the commercial and political capitals of the commonwealth. In 1866 the road was put in operation to Jackson, 38 miles south. It now extends from Jackson north via Lansing, Saginaw and Bay City to Gaylord, and will be completed this season to Cheboygan and the Straits of Mackinac to connect with the road from the latter place to Marquette.

By means of the Fort Wayne, Jackson & Saginaw railroad, connections with Indianapolis, Cincinnati and other southern points are made.

The Chicago & Grand Trunk road reached the city from Battle Creek, 45 miles southwest, in 1869, was finished to Flint, 51 miles northeast, in 1876, and now forms a continuous trunk line from Chicago to Port Huron and the seaboard.

The Detroit, Lansing & Northern railroad was completed from here to Ionia, 37 miles northwest, in 1869, and to Detroit, 85 miles southeast, in 1871. The road now extends to Howard City, on the line of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, and branching at Ionia, extends through Stanton to Big Rapids.

The Lansing Division of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad was completed to this city in 1873 from Jonesville, 60 miles south, where it makes connection with the main line of that road.

The permanently competing character of the Chicago & Grand Trunk road with the M. C. R. R. and the L. S. & M. S. Ry assures a more advantageous rate of freights to and from this city than any other interior city of the state can boast.

STATE INSTITUTIONS.

The State Capital, a magnificent structure of palladian style, built of stone, brick and iron, and costing, complete, $1,500,000, was begun in 1872 and finished in 1878. It occupies a beautiful site, consisting of four blocks, in the heart of the city. It is 345 feet long, 191 feet wide and 265 feet to the lantern surmounting the dome. The State library contains 34,022 volumes.

The State Reform School is located in the northeastern part of the city, on a farm of 224 acres. The large center building, the two family houses, the cottage building for schools, and the shops and other structures constitute an imposing cluster of buildings. There are 316 inmates.

The State Agricultural College, located 3 miles east of the city, on a farm of 676 acres, divided by the Cedar river, has four fine college buildings, a conservatory, a president's house, half a dozen professors' residences, a farm house, and many other buildings. It has a congressional land grant of 240,000 acres, and stands at the head of the agricultural colleges of this country.

The State School for the Blind is located in the northwestern part of the city, in the building known as the Odd Fellows Institute, upon a small farm of 42 acres, and has 50 pupils.

EDUCATIONAL.

Lansing has one of the finest school buildings in the State, erected in 1874-5, at a cost of $55,000. It has six ward school buildings, four of them brick, employs about 30 teachers, and has a library of 700 volumes. There is also a Catholic and a German Lutheran school. The schools are justly noted for their excellence, and attract many pupils from abroad.

RELIGIOUS.

There are fifteen churches in the city, Baptist, Catholic, Congregational, Episcopal, Free Will Baptist, German Evangelical Lutheran, German Lutheran, German Methodist, two Methodist Episcopal, two Presbyterian, Protestant Methodist, Universalist and African Methodist.

BUSINESS INTERESTS.

Lansing is the trade-center of a large and rich section of the interior of the state, and has some prosperous manufactories that do a large business, extending in some cases to distant states.

There are four banks, the Second National, the Lansing National, Central Michigan Savings Bank, and a private banking house.

There are nine hotels, the principal ones being the Lansing House, the Hudson House and the Chapman House.

There are several wholesale houses in dry goods, boots and shoes, groceries, hardware, books and stationery, furniture, etc., and a fine line of flourishing retail houses in all branches of trade. Manufactures have assumed considerable proportions, and are on a safe and flourishing basis. E. Bement & Sons' farm implement factory employs 100 men, does a large business, and ships goods to distant states east and west. A. Clark & Co.'s carriage factory does a large and flourishing business. The Lansing Iron Works is an extensive and rapidly growing concern. The Lansing Chair, Handle and Furniture factory has perhaps $70,000 invested, and does an extensive business. There are four sash, blind and door factories, five flouring mills, lumber mills, furnaces, carriage shops, two breweries, two large cooperage establishments, a flourishing fanning mill factory, several brick yards, an extensive tile factory, and many other similar but smaller industries.

OTHER FEATURES.

The city has several fine blocks of business houses, a beautiful and commodious opera house, the finest postoffice (in private building) in the state, seven fine iron bridges, two steam fire engines, gas works, express and telegraph offices, telephone exchange.

THE PRESS.

The Republican is published tri-weekly and weekly. The Journal (Democratic) and Sentinel (Greenback) are published weekly.

FINANCIAL.

The financial condition of the city is excellent. While in 1872 the city debt was $248,000, it is now only $103,400; of this debt $10,000 is for the beautiful Mt. Hope Cemetery, $45,400 railroad aid debt, and $48,000 school lands. The assessed valuation of the city is, in round numbers, $4,000,000; the actual valuation is not less than $7,000,000. The value of the city property is over $200,000.

LAPEER.

The county seat of Lapeer county, a flourishing little city of 3,000 inhabitants, is located on Flint river, at the crossing of the C. & G. T. Ry and D. & B. C. R. R., 20 miles east of Flint, 45 west of Port Huron, 48 south of Bay City and 60 north of Detroit. The site of the village was taken up by A. N. Hart, in 1831, and the village platted by him in 1833. Three years later the county was organized, and Lapeer became the seat of justice. In 1860 it re ceived a village charter, and in 1868 became a city. In 1871 it secured a railway outlet via Port Huron, and in 1872 was tapped by the D. & B. C. R. R., a branch of which, 6 miles long, here diverges to Five Lakes. The river affords good water power and several manufacturing enterprises are sustained. Among these are 2 large flouring mills, a tannery, 3 foundries and machine shops, agricultural implements 1 large and several small carriage and wagon factories, etc. There are 6 hotels, the Abram House being the leading one. An opera house and several good blocks have been erected within the past two years. A large body of excellent agricultural land is found in this county, and Lapeer, owing to its central position and superior railroad facilities, is a prominent shipping point for grain and other farm products. It has two weekly newspapers, the Clarion (Republican), and the Democrat. Express, American. Telegraph, Western Union. Mail, daily. Shad. N. Vincent, postmaster.

LESLIE.

The village of Leslie is pleasantly situated on the Saginaw Div. of the M. C. R. R., 15 miles north of Jackson, 24 south of Lansing and 90 west of Detroit. It is in the township of Leslie, Ingham county, 10 miles south of Mason, the county seat. There are four churches, Baptist, Freewill Baptist, Congregational and Methodist, three hotels, the Eagle being first class, a national bank, a large brick Union school building that cost $20,000. The Leslie Local, a lively weekly paper, is published. The village has no water power, though it has the finest supply of artesian wells in the State. At a depth of 170 feet, and a cost of only $400, flowing water is obtained in great abundance. There are eight of these wells, all having medical properties (something similar to the waters at Eaton Rapids). Leslie was first settled in 1836 and incorporated as a village in 1869. The population, including the township, is 2,500. Express, American. Telegraph, Western Union. James Blackmore, postmaster.

LITCHFIELD.

Incorporated as a village in 1877, contains, according to the census of 1880, a population of 680. It is on the Lansing Div. L. S. & M. S. Ry. in Litchfield township, Hillsdale county, 12 miles northwest of Hillsdale, the county seat, and 31 by rail southwest of Jackson. It is on a branch of the St. Joseph river, which furnishes water power for one flour mill. The other manufactories, embracing 2 planing mills, a saw-mill and a flour mill, are operated by steam. The place contains Evangelical, Baptist, Methodist Episcopal and Congregational churches, the latter costing $15,000, a graded school of 4 teachers, a ladies' library with 325 volumes, a hotel, and 3 or more substantial brick business blocks. A weekly newspaper, the Litchfield Gazette, is published. Litchfield is substantially a temperance town, no liquor whatever being sold here. The exports by rail in 1879, consisting chiefly of grain, live stock and other farm products, were 3,826 tons. Express, United States. Telegraph, Western Union. Daniel H. Mills, postmaster.

roadbed is already completed for the extension of the G. R. & I. R. R., and it is also the original terminus of the Detroit, Lansing & Saginaw road. The village contains several fine stores and dwellings, a beautiful school building, 2 church edifices, a grist mill, saw-mill, 2 wagon shops, etc. The village is improving rapidly, nearly 100 buildings (which are of a substantial character) having been erected this season. It has many fine springs of pure water, and is backed up with some of the finest farming lands to be found in Michigan, with abundance of magnificent hardwood timber. Two newspapers are published, the Little Traverse Republican and the Emmet County Independent. Lumber, wood, maple sugar, fish, ice and potatoes are shipped. It was originally settled by Roman Catholic missionaries in 1827. Daily stage to Petoskey, 9 miles south, and to Mackinaw City, 31 miles north. Telegraph, Western Union. Lorenzo A. LOWELL.

The village of Lowell is situated on Flat river, about half a mile above its junction with the Grand. It is on the D., G. H. & M. Ry, 19 miles east of Grand Rapids and 139 west of Detroit, in the township of Lowell, Kent county. It dates its foundation from the erection of a grist mill here by C. S. Hooker in 1849, and became incorporated as a village in 1861. The river affords a moderate water power, utilized by a woolen factory, planing mill, flouring mill and saw mill. The place also has planing, flouring and shingle mills propelled by steam. There are Methodist, Catholic, Baptist and Congregational churches, 3 public schools, a school library, a national bank with a capital of $100,000, a weekly newspaper, the Journal, 3 hotels, the Potter being the principal one, and several large stores. A good farming country surrounds Lowell and large shipments of grain are made here, received from the adjacent interior towns. Express, American. Telegraph, Western Union. LUDINGTON.

The western terminus of the F. & P. M. Ry, on the shore of lake Michigan, at the mouth of the Pere Marquette river, is the capital of Mason county, 236 miles northwest of Detroit, and 85 by boat from Milwaukee, Wis. The village was platted and recorded in September, 1867, there being only one store in the place at that time, and was known as the village of Pere Marquette up to 1874, when it became incorporated as the city of Ludington. Its population, according to the official census taken in June, 1880, was 4,190, and the present population, including the immediate vicinity, will fall but very little, if any, short of 5,000. The harbor here, known as Pere Marquette lake, is one of the finest and safest on lake Michigan, being about two miles in length and one in width, the depth of water is over 40 feet, although the channel connecting with lake Michigan is but 12 feet. Ludington has 7 saw and 4 shingle mills, cutting annually 130,000,000 feet of lumber, 80,000,000 shingles and 11,000,000 lath, a planing mill and sash, door and blind factory, a wooden bowl factory, 2 foundries and machine shops, a boiler shop, a brewery, a grain elevator of 75,000 bushels capacity, 2 banks, and several good hotels.

Three weekly newspapers are published here, the Record, the Appeal and the Democrat. The public schools are 4 in number, being a new brick central school, just completed at a cost of $12,000, and 3 ward schools. The churches are Baptist, Norwegian Baptist, Catholic, Congregational, Danish, Episcopal, German Lutheran, Swedish Lutheran, Methodist and Presbyterian. Among the recent improvements are a $10,000 jail building, and a large number of business places and private residences, most of which are of a substantial character. The Goodrich line of steamers furnish communication daily with Manistee and Milwaukee, a small steamer makes two daily trips to Pentwater, and in the winter daily stages run to both Manistee and Pentwater. Shipments, lumber, lath, shingles, tan bark and fruit. Express, American. Telegraph, Western Union. H. H. Wheeler, postmaster.

go. The island is hilly and rocky; a steep hill rises abruptly in the rear of the village, on which is situated an old fort, still garrisoned by two companies of United States troops. The pure, invigorating atmosphere, and the beauty of the scenery, with the many interesting features of the island, render it extremely popular as a summer resort. There are four first-class hotels in the town, which, during the summer, are thronged with guests, each season increasing the patronage. The place has a Roman Catholic and a Protestant mission church, a Union school building, a neat court house, and a dozen or more stores. Fish and Indian goods are the principal shipments. Communication by boat daily with Cheboygan and Petoskey. The steamers of the N. T. Co., W. T. Co. and C. & L. S. Co. also call here. MACKINAW CITY.

Is located at the most northerly point of the lower peninsula of Michigan, in the township of Beaugrand, Cheboygan county, 17 miles northwest of Cheboygan court house, 30 northeast of Petoskey, until the completion of the Mackinaw Div. M. C. R. R., the nearest railroad point, and 300 by water from Detroit.

It has gained considerable popularity as a summer resort, owing to its beautiful and romantic surroundings and its pure and bracing air.

On the advent of railroad communication with the upper peninsula, which is expected during the present year (1881) this will without doubt become an important business center.

MANCHESTER.

According to the census of 1880, has 1,200 inhabitants, and is the third place in population in Washtenaw county. It is beautifully situated in the valley of the river Raisin, in the southwestern part of the county, at the crossing of the D., H. & S. W. and the Jackson Br. L. S. & M. S. Ry, 22 miles southwest of Ann Arbor, 21 southeast of Jackson, 51 northwest of Toledo, and 54 from Detroit. Manchester has several manufacturing enterprises, a bank with a capital of $50,000; a large, handsome Union school building, with accommodations for 350 pupils; 6 churches of as many denominations, 2 hotels, a weekly newspaper, the Enterprise, and a capacious public hall. It is built chiefly

MANISTEE.

On the shore of lake Michigan, at the mouth of the Manistee river, is the capital of Manistee county, and an incorporated city, whose population in June, 1880, according to the United States census, was 7,075, the present population being 7,500, or more. It is 270 miles northwest of Detroit via Ludington, and 175 from Chicago by boat. The first settlement of the place dates as far back as 1846, and it became incorporated as a city in 1869. The Manistee and Little Manistee rivers both having the same outlet to lake Michigan at this place, form at their junction a small lake about 5 miles long and half a mile wide, the same being the eastern boundary of the city, on which are located some 30 saw and shingle mills, whose product for 1880, nearly all of which is marketed at Chicago, may be seen by referring to the following table, which we clip from the Manistee Independent:

There are also 3 planing mills, 2 foundries and machine shops, 3 boiler shops, a saw shop, and several other manufacturing establishments of minor importance, a bank and 4 weekly newspapers. The public schools are a central and 3 ward schools, with 18 teachers, the total value of school property being about $40,000. The churches are Catholic, Congregational, Methodist, German Lutheran and Scandinavian Baptist, Lutheran and Methodist. The building improvements during the past few years have made a notable change in the appearance of the city, there being now a goodly number of substantial brick business blocks and handsome private residences. The Goodrich line of steamers furnish daily communication with Milwaukee via Ludington, and make semi-weekly trips to Frankfort, 28 miles north. A daily stage runs during the winter season to Ludington, also to Bear Lake and Pierport, connecting at the latter place semi-weekly for Frankfort. The extension of the F. & P. M. Ry to this place is now being agitated, and will doubtless soon be accomplished. Fruit raising is carried on to a considerable extent in the vicinity, and is a growing interest, large quantities being shipped annually across the lake. Telegraph, Western Union. Express, American. MARQUETTE.

The great center of the mining interests of the lake Superior iron region, is a thriving city of 5,000 inhabitants, beautifully situated on a bay of the same name, 170 miles west of Sault de Ste. Marie, and 450 by water from Detroit. The city occupies a moderately elevated site, affording one of the finest views of lake and inland scenery to be found in the upper peninsula. The city, which is the judicial seat of Marquette county, dates its settlement from 1845, in which year the real value of the rich iron deposits in the vicinity was recognized, and lands were located for mining purposes. The first iron dock was built in 1854, and the railroad completed to the mines in 1857. In 1865, the C. & N. W. Ry was opened to Escanaba, since which time the city has grown steadily. It is the eastern terminus of the Marquette, Houghton & Ontonagon R. R., now completed a distance of 65 miles to L'Anse, at head of Keweenaw bay, and is the western terminus of the Detroit, Mackinac and Marquette R. R., now under construction, to be completed in the autumn of 1881. By this line the distance to Detroit will be shortened nearly 100 miles. The manufacturing interests comprise three large blast furnaces, a rolling mill, a large foundry and machine shop, a saw-mill, brewery, and powder mill having a capacity of 1,200 kegs per week.

The extensive car and machine shops of the M., H. & O. R. R., are also located here, and at these shops all the cars employed on the line are constructed, and locomotives rebuilt and repaired.

The city is lighted with gas, and supplied with water from the lake by Holly water works. Three well organized hose companies constitute its fire department. The main street contains a number of very handsome blocks. There are 7 churches, some of which are elegant and costly structures, a convent and orphan asylum, 8 ward school buildings and a handsome

MARSHALL.

An attractive city of 5,000 inhabitants, is located at the confluence of Rice creek with the Kalamazoo river, in the central part of Calhoun county, of which it is the seat of justice. It is on the main line of the M. C. R. R., about midway between Detroit and New Buffalo, being 108 miles from the former and 110 from the latter place. The site was selected in 1830 by Sidney Ketchum, of Clinton county, N. Y., and a village platted in the following year. In 1844 the railroad was opened to this point, and in 1859 Marshall became a city. Ample water power is afforded for manufacturing purposes, the interests in this line being 2 flouring mills, a paper mill and some others. The churches are 9, representing the Episcopal, Methodist, Catholic, Lutheran, Presbyterian, Baptist, Universalist, Christian and Congregational bodies. There is also an association of spiritualists. In educational facilities Marshall is excelled by no place of its size in Michigan. It has a commodious central school building, costing, with outfit, $100,000, and 4 ward schools; 19 teachers are employed, and the attendance numbers about 700. The court house, one of the most commodious in the State, was erected in 1874 at a cost of $80,000, and the jail, not yet completed, will cost about $25,000. The city has an indebtedness of $25,000 in school bonds, and a total enrolled valuation of property, real and personal, of $1,500,000. There are 3 banks, as follows: The First National, capital $100,000; the National Bank of Michigan, capital $150,000, and the National City Bank, capital $100,000. Excellent hotel accommodations are afforded, and the city has an opera house, with all the modern conveniences and a seating capacity of 1,000. Two good weekly newspapers are issued, the Statesman and the Expounder. A young ladies' library association contains over 1,000 volumes. The city is lighted with gas by the Marshall Gas Co. (capital $40,000). The fire department consists of a steamer and 2 hand engines, and 2 hook and ladder trucks, supplied with water from 22 artesian wells, located in different parts of the city. Telegraph, Western Union. Express, American. Samuel J. Burpee, postmaster.

MENDON.

A flourishing incorporated village of 900 inhabitants, in the township of Mendon, St. Joseph county. It is on the St. Joseph river, and is a prominent station on the G. R. & I. R. R., 4½ miles north of Wasepi, the crossing of the Air Line Div. M. C. R. R., 21 south of Kalamazoo, 8 northeast of Centreville, the county seat, and 140 west of Detroit. It is in a fine and highly improved farming country, of which grain and fruit are staple products. The river affords good water power, and considerable manufacturing by both water and steam power is carried on. The place has Catholic, Christian, Episcopal and Methodist Episcopal churches, 2 small libraries, 2 private banks, a graded school of 4 teachers, 2 weekly newspapers, The Weekly Globe and The Mendon Times, and 2 hotels. A brick business block, a grain elevator and a dozen or more substantial brick dwellings have been added to the list of improvements here since our last issue. Assessed valuation of real and personal property, $283,715. Grain, live stock, general produce and essential oils are shipped, the latter more largely than at any other point in the northwest. Of grain alone, 600 cars were exported last year. Mendon was settled in 1834; incorporated in 1870, and reincorporated in 1875. Express, United States. Mail, daily. Telegraph, G. R. & I. R. R. Co's. Alfred Candell, postmaster.

MENOMINEE.

The judicial seat of the county of Menominee, a village of 3,128 inhabitants, lies at the mouth of the Menominee river, on the west shore of Green bay, in the extreme southern point of the county. It is on the line of the C. & N. W. Ry. 264 miles north of Chicago, 137 south of Marquette and 548 by rail from Detroit. Menominee is an important lumber manufacturing point, having in the immediate neighborhood 6 large saw-mills with a yearly capacity of 100,000,000 feet of lumber. A blast furnace, in full operation, turns out 8,000 tons of pig iron per annum. Extensive beds of iron ore are being developed in the county, several companies having organized and located mines at Little Sturgeon Falls, Breen Ingalls and other points. There are 4 churches, Catholic, Lutheran, Presbyterian and Methodist, and ample educational facilities are afforded by a fine new graded school building, constructed at a cost of $15,000. A weekly newspaper, the Herald, is published. The village contains a number of handsome buildings, among which the court house, school building, Turners hall and town hall are prominent. It has

MIDLAND.

The judicial seat of Midland county, is situated at the confluence of the Tittabawassee and Chippewa rivers, in the township of Midland, and is the most important town along the line of the F. & P. M. Ry, between Saginaw and Ludington. It is 20 miles northwest of the former, 117 east of the latter, and 118 northwest of Detroit. Charles Fitzhew, the first settler, located here in 1833, and the place was incorporated as a village in 1869. It now claims a population of 2,000. The more prominent interests of the place embrace 4 churches, Episcopal, Catholic, Baptist and Methodist (an organization of Presbyterians being at present without a church building), a substantial school building costing $30,000, 5 teachers being employed, a large school library, lodges of Masons, Odd Fellows and Good Templars, 2 fine solid brick blocks of recent construction, an opera house with a seating capacity of 700, 2 weekly newspapers, a flouring mill, a bromine factory, and several saw and shingle mills. The manufacture of salt has recently been commenced, and 5 salt wells are now in operation. In consequence of the destructive fires to which the town has at various times been subjected, brick is rapidly superseding wood as a building material. The surrounding country is largely pine timber land, but agriculture is being carried on to some extent, and excellent crops of wheat, oats, grass, etc., are grown. Shipments, lumber in its various forms, flour, salt, shingles and farm products. Stage to Lee's Corner and Porter, weekly. Mail, daily. Express, American. Telegraph, Western Union. Benjamin F. Bradley, postmaster.

MONROE.

Next to Detroit is the oldest city in Michigan. It is the judicial seat in Monroe county, and is pleasantly located on the river Raisin, about 4 miles above its mouth. The first permanent settlement was made here in 1784, by a French colony from Canada. The first Americans located here about ten years later. The place endured all the horrors of the early Indian wars, and made but little progress until after the war of 1812, when for several years it kept pace fully with Detroit. The harbor here, owing to its peculiar formation, is one of the safest on the lakes. The Michigan Southern Railway reached Monroe in 1837, and for some years the city was its eastern terminus. Communication is now afforded by the L. S. & M. S., the C. S. and the F. & P. M. railways, by which it is 35 miles southwest of Detroit, 117 southeast of Saginaw, 33 east of Adrian, and 20 north of Toledo, Ohio.

The manufacturing interests comprise 5 flour mills, a spoke factory, 2 foundries, 3 sash and blind factories, a glass sand mill, woolen mill, paper mill, 2 tanneries, a brick yard, 2 breweries, a plaster mill, and extensive nurseries in and about the city.

The press is represented by two enterprising weekly journals, the Commercial (Republican), and Monitor (Democratic). There are 10 churches, 3 of which are Catholic and the remainder Protestant, of the different denominations. It has a very fine Union or High school building, and several ward schools, with 7 teachers and 425 pupils. There is also a convent and a young ladies' seminary. The city library now contains 2,500 volumes. A handsome court house, built of limestone, has just been completed at a cost of $25,000. The last assessment places the taxable value of the city at $2,400,000, and it has a bonded indebtedness of $27,000. The population is slightly over 5,000. The land in the neighborhood consists of a rich sandy loam, with clay subsoil, the surface is level, and grain, grass, fruit and berries are grown in profusion. Flour, paper, provisions, grain, fruit and nursery stock are exported.

The city enjoys the best mail facilities, and has offices of the United States Express and Western Union Telegraph Cos. Wm. A. Noble, postmaster.

In Montague township, in the northwestern part of Muskegon county, is a station on the C. & W. R. R., 17 miles north of Muskegon, and about 5 from lake Michigan. It is at the head of White lake, directly opposite Whitehall, and although not incorporated, has a population of about 1,500. Lumber manufacturing is the chief interest, there being 3 saw and 2 shingle mills within the village, and 6 other saw-mills and 4 shingle mills at Whitehall and other points on the lake, the aggregate annual product of which is 120,000,000 feet of lumber, besides large quantities of lath and shingles. The village has also a steam flour mill, a foundry and machine shop, a weekly newspaper, The Lumberman, a brick Union school, one of the best hotels on the lake shore, and five churches, Catholic, Dutch Reformed, Lutheran, Methodist and Presbyterian. Fruit raising is carried on to a considerable extent in the vicinity, and is a growing interest. During the season of navigation boats leave about twice a week for Chicago, carrying both passengers and freight. The shipments are lumber, lath, shingles, fruit, hemlock bark, railroad ties and cord-wood. Express, American. Telegraph, Western Union. Henry Becker, postmaster.

MOUNT CLEMENS.

Incorporated as a city under the general incorporation law of 1879; contains three wards; population, 3,061, according to census of 1880. It has a transient population of 500, and is situated on the line of the Grand Trunk Railway. Water communication by way of Clinton river and lake St. Clair; daily boats. Mt. Clemens is one of the earliest settlements in the state, the first settlement dating back to about 1784. The place grew slowly, until about six or seven years ago, when the rapid development of the farming country forced the growth of the village as a market town. The discovery of the famous mineral waters added an impetus to the growth and importance of the place. The city is to-day one of the famous resorts for invalids from all parts of the country. Large and commodious hotels have been erected for the accommodation of persons in search of health. The recent controversy in regard to the location of the county seat has resulted in favor of this city, and a new court house, to cost $25,000, is in process of erection, on the site of the old one. The city contains five excellent hotels and many boarding houses. The enterprising proprietors of the Avery House have built their hotel on the site of the old Mineral Springs House; it is a very handsome and commodious structure, and connected with the bath house by a covered way, heated with steam to the temperature of the main house, so that guests can go from their own bed chambers to their baths in dressing gown and slippers, and after bathing return to their beds without danger of exposure to any change of temperature.

There are 6 churches, representing the Episcopalian, Presbyterian, Methodist, Lutheran, Baptist and Roman Catholic denominations, 4 stave and heading mills, 3 saw-mills, 2 breweries, 1 foundry, 1 grist mill, 1 tannery, 4 carriage-making establishments, 3 livery stables, an excellent Union or graded school, besides the usual business houses of a flourishing town. Newspapers, the Monitor and the Tri-e Record (Republican), and Press (Democratic).

The actual settlement of the present site was about the year 1818.

Telegraph, Western Union and United States. Express, Canadian. A telephone line connects all the principal points with a central office. George M. Crocker, mayor. George H. Snook, postmaster.

MT. PLEASANT.

A thriving incorporated village of 1,250 inhabitants, is the county seat of Isabella county. It is located on the Chippewa river, southeast of the center of the county, and is reached by the Saginaw and Mount Pleasant narrow gauge railroad, a line 15 miles in length, connecting with the F. & P. M. Ry at Coleman, via which line Mount Pleasant is 53 miles northwest of Saginaw, 64 southeast of Reed City, and 151 from Detroit. It is surrounded by a rich, slightly rolling farming country, well adapted to grain, potatoes and grass. Good water power is obtained from the river, and lumber, rough and dressed, sash, doors, staves, flour, castings, etc., are manufactured. There are Methodist, Catholic and Presbyterian churches, a graded public school of 4 rooms, a bank, 4 hotels, the St. James being the principal one, 3 weekly newspapers, a fine brick block recently erected at a cost of $13,500, contains a beautiful hall with a seating capacity for 600. Connects with St. Louis 22 miles southeast daily by stage, fare, $1.25. Mount Pleasant was settled in 1861. Express, American. Mail, daily. Charles E. Westlake, postmaster.

MUSKEGON.

The largest and most important city on the east shore of lake Michigan, and the greatest lumber manufacturing place in the world, is a flourishing and rapidly improving city of 12 000 population, and the county seat of Muskegon county. Its name is derived from the river, which at this point empties into, or rather widens out and forms Muskegon lake, a splendid sheet of water, about 6 miles long and from 1 to 2 miles in width, making one of the best and safest harbors on the whole chain of lakes, and of incalculable benefit for booming purposes for the 30 saw-mills on its shores. Muskegon was first settled in 1812, platted in 1849, became a village in 1861, and was incorporated as a city in 1870. Its railroads are the Chicago & West Michigan R. R., extending from New Buffalo to Pentwater, with a branch from here to Big Rapids, and the Grand Haven R. R., extending from here to Allegan, via Grand Haven and Holland. The Goodrich line of steamers also furnish communication daily with Grand Haven and Chicago. Distances are, from Chicago, 108 miles by water and 192 by rail; from Detroit, 196 miles; from Grand Rapids, 40 miles. Among the prominent features of the city are 11 churches, viz.: Baptist, Catholic, Congregational, Danish Lutheran, 2 Dutch Reformed, Episcopal, Methodist, Norwegian Lutheran, Scandinavian and Universalist, a fine Union school building and 5 ward schools, a $45,000 court house and a $25,000 opera house. There are 2 National Banks, whose combined capital is $300,000. The newspapers are the Chronicle, Republican in politics and issuing daily and weekly editions; the Journal, Republican, weekly; the News and Reporter, Democratic, semi-weekly, and the Sentinel, a Greenback weekly. The city is lighted with gas, has the Vergennes system of water works, and its main street, Western avenue, has a decidedly metropolitan appearance, there being several fine brick business blocks. There are about a dozen hotels, of all grades, the Hofstra, American and Occidental, the leading ones, being well kept and well patronized; the former is the only first-class brick hotel in the city. Lumber manufacturing is, of course, the chief interest of the place, the annual product of the mills on Muskegon lake being estimated at not less than 500,000,000 feet. Apart from lumbering, the manufacturing interests of the city are quite extensive, and include 3 foundries and machine shops, large boiler works, a steam flour mill with 5 run of stone, a brewery and extensive basket and fruit package manufactory, a curtain roller and window-slat manufactory, a packing box manufactory, 4 planing mills, and an establishment for the manufacture of fire kindlings and hames. There are also carriage and wagon shops, the usual number of smaller manufacturing concerns found in places of this size, and the shops of the C. & W. M. R. R. Co., all of which give employment to many hundreds of employes, and disburse annually, in the form of wages, several hundred thousands of dollars. The productions of the surrounding country are chiefly grapes, strawberries and peaches, of which large shipments are annually made. Henry H. Holt, ex-Lieutenant Governor of the State, is in possession of a large and valuable collection of mineral specimens, coins and curiosities, collected from all parts of the world, which he has formed into a museum and opened to the public. Owing to the strong current in the channel leading from Muskegon lake to lake Michigan, the water never freezes over, and affords better advantages for a winter harbor than any other port on the coast, and is deep enough for the largest vessels. Telegraph, Western Union. Express, American and United States. Mail, daily, to all points. Luther Whitney, postmaster.

NEW BUFFALO.

A flourishing village of 1,000 inhabitants, was settled in 1834, and incorporated in 1869, and is situated at the mouth of the Galien river on the shore of lake Michigan. It is the extreme southwestern town of the State, and lies within 4 miles of the Indiana border, in New Buffalo township, Berrien county, 27 miles southwest of Berrien Springs, the county seat. New Buffalo is the southern terminus of C. & W. M. R. R., and a station the M. C. R. R., 218 west of Detroit, 126 south of Muskegon, 115 southwest of Grand Rapids, and 66 east of Chicago, Ill. There is considerable timber in the surrounding country, though the only manufacturing enterprises here at present are a furniture factory and stave factory. Many of the farmers in the vicinity have lately turned their attention to fruit raising, and New Buffalo will shortly export large quantities of peaches, apples, pears, berries and other fruits. The churches are four, Baptist, Catholic, Methodist Episcopal and Lutheran. The place has a good graded school. Express, American. Telegraph, Western Union. Mail, daily. George R. Weed, postmaster.

NILES.

The city of Niles is situated on the St. Joseph river, in the southeast corner of Berrien county, 179 miles from Detroit and 93 from Chicago. It was settled as early as 1828, and named in honor of Hezekiah Niles, editor of the Niles Register. In 1831 the county was organized and called after the Hon. J. M. Berrien, a member of President Jackson's cabinet. In 1838 Niles became an incorporated village, and in 1859 a city charter was obtained. It lies at the junction of the Air Line and South Bend Divs. M. C. R. R. with the main line, in Niles township, 10 miles southeast of Berrien Springs, the county seat. Among the features of interest are 8 churches, 2 Baptist and 2 Methodist (1 each white and colored), Catholic, Episcopal, Lutheran and Presbyterian; 5 brick public school buildings, including a large central school, employing 19 teachers, with 1,488 enrolled pupils, three newspapers, the Democrat, Republican and Weekly Mirror (Greenback). There are 2 fine halls, seating 1,000 and 500 respectively; 2 libraries, township and city; a bank, the First National (capital $100,000, surplus $10,000); gas works, a fine iron bridge, and a number of substantial business blocks. The Dowagiac creek unites with the St. Joseph here, the two streams affording unsurpassed water privileges. Manufacturing, which is extensively carried on, embraces 5 flouring mills, 3 machine shops, 2 carriage factories, works for the manufacture of plows, fanning mills, corn shellers, paper, wood pulp, barrels, soap, cider,

The Onekama postoffice, the mills, and, in fact, about all that constituted what was sometimes called Portage, were removed during the year 1880 to a point near the head of Portage lake, being some 3 miles east and 1 mile south of the old site. A village has been platted and is called Onekama. Since its start (about March 1st), its growth has been very rapid. The government is making a harbor of refuge of Portage lake, by constructing a channel from lake Michigan, from which it is separated by a narrow belt (30 rods) of high timbered hills. This channel is to be something over 300 feet wide and 18 feet deep. Portage lake is very deep, and upon the completion of the channel will be navigable for the largest craft as far east as the village. The lake is fed by some 20 spring brooks of the purest water, and abounds with fish. The scenery is good

OWOSSO.

A city of 3,000 inhabitants, located on the Shiawassee river, in the township of Owosso, Shiawassee county. It is at the intersection of the D., G. H. & M. Ry and the Saginaw Div. of the M. C. R. R. 65 miles north of Jackson, 56 southwest of Bay City, 28 from Lansing, and 78 from Detroit. Corunna, the county seat, is 3 miles east.

In 1831 two brothers named Williams purchased the tract of land upon which the city stands, and four years later the first building was erected. The town was platted in the same year, and in 1859 it became incorporated as a city. The Detroit and Milwaukee Ry had reached this point four years previously, and in 1863 the J., L. & S., now the Saginaw Div. M. C. R. R., was completed. The excellent facilities afforded by these roads, together with the advantages of an outlet by river, have made Owosso a prominent shipping and trading point for a large section of good agricultural country. It numbers among its manufacturing interests 2 flouring mills, 3 furniture factories, 2 planing mills, 2 brick yards, a brewery, tannery, handle factory, foundries, etc.

There are Baptist, Catholic, Congregational, Episcopal, Methodist, Evangelical and Lutheran churches, a large brick Union school building and 3 ward schools, a national and private bank, an opera hall, seating 600, a ladies' library association, with 1,500 volumes, and a weekly newspaper, the Press (Democratic).

The city has a bonded indebtedness of $25,000. A large furniture factory recently completed, one of the prominent features, employs 200 men.

Grain, fruit, flour, furniture, wool, leather, lumber, sash and doors, are leading exports. Express, American. Mail, daily by rail and tri-weekly by stage from West Haven, 6½ miles north. Telegraph, Western Union. L. A. Hamblin, postmaster.

PENTWATER.

On the shore of lake Michigan at the outlet of Pentwater lake, is an incorporated village of 1,200 population in the northwest corner of Oceana county, 8 miles from Hart, the county seat, 44 north of Muskegon and 240 from Detroit. It is the northern terminus of the C. & W. M. R. R. The village has 2 saw-mills, 3 shingle mills, a flour mill, a planing mill, a bank, a weekly newspaper, a public library containing about 600 volumes, a good Union school and four churches, Catholic, Congregational, Episcopal and Methodist. During the season of navigation a steamer makes two daily trips to Ludington, and in winter communication is had by stage with the same place. Bonded debt, $1,600. Shipments, lumber, lath, shingles, shooks and staves, tan-bark and fish. The harbor here formed by the widening of Pentwater river at its mouth, and known as Pentwater lake, is about 1¼ miles in length by ¼ mile in width, and is very deep, although the channel from lake Michigan will not admit of the passage of vessels drawing more than 10 feet. PETOSKEY.

The largest village in Emmet county, is situated on the south shore of Little Traverse bay, 5 miles by water or 10 by stage south of Little Traverse, the county seat. It is the northern terminus of the G. R. & I. R. R., and is 43 miles southwest of Cheboygan, 121 north of Reed City and 190 north of Grand Rapids. Previous to the completion of the railroad in 1874, Petoskey was but a small hamlet of perhaps 50 people. It was incorporated in 1878 and now claims a population of 2,000. Bear creek affords an extensive water power, operating 2 flour mills, a saw-mill, planing mill and handle factory. Lime, lumber, flour, wooden ware, handles, maple sugar and fish are shipped. It has Methodist, Presbyterian and Catholic churches, 2 ward schools, 2 large hotels, and an assessed valuation of $178,000. Petoskey is a noted resort for invalids and a sanitarium for asthmetic and hay fever patients. It takes its name from an Indian chief who for many years has been a prominent resident here. Stage daily to Cheboygan, Charlevoix and Little Traverse. Express, United States. Telegraph, G. R. & I. R. R. Co's. Ralph Connable, postmaster.

PLAINWELL.

Next to Allegan the most important town in Allegan county, has a population of about 1,400. It is situated at the intersection of the G. R. & I. R. R. and the Kalamazoo division L. S. & M. S. Ry, in the township of Gun Plains, southeastern part of the county, and is 13 miles southeast of Allegan, 12 north of Kalamazoo, 38 south of Grand Rapids and 156 west of Detroit. The Kalamazoo river furnishes a large water power, a fall of 9 feet occurring within ¾ of a mile. This extensive motor is utilized by 3 flour mills, 2 planing mills, a paper mill, a rake and handle factory, and a saw-mill. Plainwell is located in an extremely rich and productive grain and fruit country, and is a prominent market for wheat. The shipments of flour average about 100,000 barrels a year, of paper 500 tons, and of rakes and handles 5,000 dozen. Live stock and fruit are also shipped in large quantities. The town has 5 churches, Baptist, Catholic, Episcopal, Methodist Episcopal and Presbyterian, 3 public halls, a large central and a primary school building, in which 9 teachers are employed and 426 scholars enrolled; a ladies' library association has a collection of 875 volumes, besides which there is a district library of some 200 books. Among the recent improvements are a fine iron bridge spanning the river, erected at a cost of $4,500, and a number of substantial residences. Water works on the Holly system were erected in 1870, at a cost of $10,000. The village is the headquarters of the Union Agricultural and Industrial Society of Allegan, Barry and Kalamazoo counties, which has its grounds located here. A weekly newspaper, the Independent (Republican), is published. Express, United States and American. Telegraph, Western Union. Plainwell was settled in 1836, and became an incorporated village in 1869. Mail stage to Gun Marsh, Orangeville, Yankee Springs and Middleville on Mondays and Fridays, fare 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50.
